AL CAPONE FACES PERJURY CHARGES

DUTIES MEASURE EXPECTED REACH HOOVER MONDAY

Approval of Rates Revision Bill in Lower Branch Saturday Afternoon Regarded As Absolute Certainty Due to Overwhelming Republican Majority—Administration Men Believe President Will Sign After Study by Experts.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) — The house today adopted the conference agreement on the tariff bill, completing congressional action.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—Nearing the last of its scores of roll calls, the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill was taken up in the house for its final vote today, with republican leaders confident of passage by at least eighty votes.

After a brief discussion, the house adopted, 221 to 139, the rule calling for a single ballot on the two conference reports. This prevented any opposition attempts to return it to conference.

The vote on the rule was regarded as an approximate indication of the vote on the bill, the final ballot of which was expected to be taken between 4 and 5 p. m.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—The tariff bill today awaited only the perfunctory approval of the house before being sent along to President Hoover.

Adopted by the senate, 44 to 42, the measure was given undisputed right-of-way in the other branch of congress. Three hours were set aside for debate today with the last of the many congressional roll calls on the bill coming shortly after 3 o'clock.

Unlike the senate, where the republicans have only a paper majority, the house is overwhelmingly republican. Hence, approval of the final draft of the measure was regarded as an absolute certainty.

President Hoover probably will receive the bulky document on Monday. With the aid of experts he then will begin a study of its provisions, meanwhile sending copies to the treasury and other interested departments for comment before acting.

Expect Hoover To Sign.

Administration chiefs in both houses believe Mr. Hoover will sign the measure. They assert if the president finds himself dissatisfied with some of its provisions he can take advantage of the flexible clause to correct them.

Setting aside the last hour and a half for himself, Senator Watson, the bulk Indiana majority leader,

JUDGE MUNGER SENTENCES FOUR

Hearon Gets Four Years For Robbing Eagle Postoffice.

William Hearon, who recently pleaded guilty to robbery of the postoffice at Eagle, was sentenced to four years in the federal penitentiary by Federal Judge T. C. Munger Saturday morning. His accomplice, Leonard Peyton, was given an eighteen-month term when he pledged that he would return to his deserted wife and 6 year old child upon his release.

Hearon, as well as two others arraigned and sentenced Saturday morning, all admitted having wives whom they had abandoned. Peyton, declared that he had been driven to the crime by the need of money for medical treatment.

The pair recently tried to saw out of the Lancaster county jail, and Judge Munger warned them that this is now a federal offense under a new law enacted a short time ago by congress.

Seventeen year old Clyde Preston of Kansas City was sentenced to three months in jail or a reformatory for driving a stolen car from Missouri into Nebraska.

David M. Copeland, 27 of Talmage, Kas., was sentenced to six months in the county jail after pleading guilty to violation of the Mann act. A statement, by the 16-year-old girl that he brought from Kansas into Nebraska, defended him. A letter has also been received by Robert Van Pelt, assistant United States attorney from Copeland's wife, asking about disposition of the case. They are not divorced.

Inmates Of County Jail Vaccinated

Prisoner Suffering From Smallpox To Be Left In Cell House.

Eight prisoners in the lower cell house at the county jail were vaccinated for smallpox Saturday morning by Dr. R. H. Sawyer, county physician, after discovery that one prisoner had broken out with the disease. The prisoner, Harvey H. Porter of Atlantic, Ia., is said to have a mild case.

Segregation of Porter was not contemplated by the physician, the other prisoners in the lower cell house already having been exposed. No other prisoners will be placed in the lower cell house, however.

Porter, who is being held for federal officials to face a post office theft charge, was brought to the county jail June 2, when he completed a sentence at the state reformatory. Inmates of the upper cell house were examined. No trace of the disease was found. They were not vaccinated.

SIX ARE KILLED AS TORNADOES HIT TWO STATES

Minnesota and Wisconsin Wind Storms Result in $1,000,000 Damage.

MORE THAN SIXTY SUFFER INJURIES

Four Persons Die in One Farm Home Located Near Menominie.

(By The Associated Press.)

A series of tornadoes played leap frog across southern Minnesota and Wisconsin late Friday and when they had played themselves out there was a death toll of six, an injury list of more than three score and property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Five persons died near Menominie, Wis., and a man was killed at Randolph, Minn. More than thirty were injured in and near Randolph; a score were hurt around Menominie, twelve were injured at Eau Claire, Wis.; four at St. Paul Park, Minn., a suburb of St. Paul, with scattered casualities in other sections of the two states.

A preliminary estimate placed the damage at Eau Claire and Menominie at more than $500,000; at Randolph, more than $200,000; the region around Austin and Oslo, Minn., $75,000; with other damage at St. Paul Park; Munson Hill, Minn., and Ellsworth and the vicinity of La Crosse, Wis.

Twisters Kill Five.

The dead:

COUNTY OFFICERS ASK HIGHER PAY

Base Claims On State Statute Governing Salaries.

32 Highway Patrolmen Seek $15 Monthly Increase.

Three claims for salary increases under the statute regulating salaries in counties of more than 100,000 population were filed with the county clerk Saturday morning. Early Saturday afternoon, a petition asking a $15 increase per month for each of the thirty-two highway patrolmen in the county was filed with the county clerk.

Two of the three monthly salary claims were from officials for whom increases are statutory, the county engineer and the county assessor. The third was for an increase for the deputy county engineer, which increase would be optional with county commissioners. The increases asked for the patrolmen would, if granted, cost the county an extra $480 a month.

County Engineer Edgren filed a claim for his monthly salary for $291.67, which would put him on the $3,500 basis allowed in 100,000 population counties. He has been getting $3,000 a year. His deputy, L. W. Weaver, filed a claim for $250, which would put him on a $3,000 basis. He has been getting $2,500.

Increased Claim Unexpected.

The increased claim filed by Weaver and recommended by Edgren was unexpected by county authorities. A check-up of the state statutes revealed, however, that in counties with 100,000 population, the deputy county engineer could be paid up to $3,000. His salary will be determined by the county commissioners.

O. C. Bell, county assessor, again filed his monthly salary claim for the increase to which he would be entitled under the 100,000 population figure. He also submitted claims from his office for small increases in salary for two clerks. Similar claims were filed a month ago but the amounts were reduced to the former figure by county commissioners after discovering that the claims provided for an increase in salary.

Several Ask No Raise.

Sheriff Hensel and the three county commissioners, all of whom are entitled to increases if the county's population is over 100,000 have filed their monthly salary claims at the old figure which they have been receiving. The clerk of the District court and his deputy, for whom increases are also provided when the county tops 100,000,

Makes Filing For County Assessor

JAMES A. SHEFFIELD.

Mr. Sheffield, deputy county assessor, filed Saturday as a candidate for the republican nomination for assessor. A former county assessor, Mr. Sheffield, with twelve years' experience in that office, is running for the position now held by O. C. Bell, who in February announced he would not be a candidate for re-election.

FILING MADE BY J. A. SHEFFIELD

Present Deputy Becomes Candidate for County Assessor.

Filing of James A. Sheffield for county assessor Saturday morning marked the first filing for county office by a non-incumbent where there is as yet no contest for the office. Mr. Sheffield, deputy county assessor, is asking nomination in the republican primaries.

Mr. Sheffield came to Lincoln in 1883 and has lived here continuously since that time. For many years he was engaged in the real estate business. He served eight years at one time as city tax commissioner. He has had twelve years' experience in the assessor's office, generally supervising the real estate assessments.

He is running to succeed O. C. Bell, who announced early this year he would not be a candidate for re-election.

CHARGE SNYDER WITH ROBBERY

Albion Man Arrested as Accomplice In Creston Jobs.

NORFOLK, Neb., June 14—(AP)—Charged with helping rob three Creston business houses yesterday Burns Snyder, a ball player of Albion, and Leonard Johnson of Creston are now in jail at Columbus.

Snyder was arrested at Lindsay last night by the Boone county sheriff. Officers said the youth admitted being an accomplice of Johnson, who was wounded and captured by a posse earlier in the day.

Bloodhounds failed to keep Snyder's trail and he was taken only after Johnson made a statement to the sheriff.

A meat market, barber shop and filling station at Creston were robbed.

HOOVER REACHES HALF-WAY MARK AS PARTY CHIEF

President Beset By Touchy Issues on Anniversary of Nomination.

TALK OF SECOND TERM IS STARTED

Internal Dissatisfaction and Third Party Gossip Persists.

BY BYRON PRICE.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) — Just at the political half-way mark of his four-year term, President Hoover finds his fortunes ringed about these June days with a numerous and persistent swarm of touchy public issues.

As if by prearrangement, the whole brood—tariff, farm relief, prohibition, foreign relations, internal party troubles—has come buzzing about the head of the man who, by virtue of being president, is also the leader of the republican party.

Two years ago tonight, amid the gay bunting and triumphant band music at Kansas City, he was elevated to that leadership by a single, one-sided roll call.

Followers Looking Ahead.

Two years hence—unless history breaks her well established habit — another national convention will see his followers rallying to consummate his renomination.

Already the straws are bending to the passing breeze, and Washington is full of talk of 1932. What Mr. Hoover himself may be thinking no one is undertaking to say. His own friends, however, are getting ready; and so are his enemies within the party.

Claim Hold Is Stronger.

Those who look to another term for him rely heavily on the appeal they claim for him among the rank and file of voters. They declare this hold is stronger, rather than weaker, by virtue of such defeats as he has suffered in congress, and such open breaks as he has arrived at with party politicians. They see in the great number of major projects he has planned in the national fab-

HEAVY RAINFALL BENEFITS CROPS

Both Wheat and Corn Greatly Aided By Precipitation.

Fall in Lincoln of More Than Inch Breaks Heat Spell.

A 1.03 inch rainfall in Lincoln and fairly general precipitation over the state Friday night was most opportune for crops, Prof. F. D. Keim of the university agricultural college and A. E. Anderson, federal crop statistician, agreed Saturday morning. Both reported that the prolonged hot, dry spell had hardened the ground.

"It was fine for wheat," Anderson commented. "Some of the fields were ripening a bit too fast and were starting to get yellow. This rain will hold them back a little. Much of the corn was planted late and needed a good rain to loosen the ground."

"It was worth a great deal," stated Mr. Keim. "Pastures and the second crop of alfalfa will particularly be benefited. The first alfalfa has been cut, and the second growth needed the moisture badly."

The local rainfall broke a period of heat that sent the mercury up to 92 at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, equalling the high mark of the year set April 10.

Lightning Hits Home.

The storm was marked by severe lightning and thunder. V. Brown, 3097 S street, reported that lightning struck his home shortly before 5:30 Saturday morning. Firemen were called, but there was no blaze.

The highest temperature in the state was 98, registered at Tekamah, according to the local weather bureau. However, an unofficial report of 100 degrees was received from Norfolk. Rainfall reports received by the weather bureau follow:

Seeks Nomination For State Senate

GEORGE KOSTER.

KOSTER ENTERS SENATE CONTEST

Files For Democratic Nomination in Tenth District.

George Koster, former state game warden under Governors Neville, McKelvie, and Bryan, filed Saturday with the secretary of state as a candidate in the democratic primaries for the state senate in the Tenth district, which includes Cedar and Knox county. Koster's home is now at Niobrara where he is operating a hotel.

The Tenth district senate seat has been held for several sessions by Allen Stinson, newspaper publisher at Niobrara, but it is understood that he does not intend to become a candidate for re-election. It is said to be probable that Koster will have no opposition on the democratic ticket and possibly none on the republican ticket in the general election.

Koster is widely known throughout the state as a result of his work as chief of the state game department and his activity in democratic political circles.

He is the father of "Dutch" Koster, Cornhusker football player.

RESUME TRADING IN GRAIN FUTURES IN OMAHA MONDAY

OMAHA, June 14— (AP) —Final plans for the resumption of grain futures trading on the Omaha market were completed here today. The futures market, which recently gained the approval of Washington officialdom, will open Monday.

The futures pit has been closed here since the World war, when government requested local grain men to shut down on futures trading.

Futures trading in wheat, corn and oats during the summer months will be carried on from 9:30 to 1:15.

Grain Prices Sink to New Low Levels

July Wheat Goes Below Dollar Mark First Time This Year.

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—All deliveries of wheat, corn, oats and rye broke to new bottom levels for the season today under pressure of selling induced chiefly by good weather conditions in the growing grain belts. July wheat sank below the dollar mark for the first time this year.

July wheat struck bottom at 99 cents a bushel, the lowest price for wheat futures since February 25, when March contracts were traded at 98¾ cents.

The net loss for the day in wheat was 1½ to 2⅝ cents a bushel. Closing prices were: July 99¼@½; September $1.01¾@⅞; and December $1.06¼@⅝.

Corn Price Tumbles.

July corn hit bottom at 76¼ cents, July oats at 36¼, and July rye, like other months in rye, closed at the bottom for the day, 50½.

Besides the bearish effect of rains in Canada and auspicious harvest weather southwest, the passage of the tariff bill was looked on by some as an unsettling element, fear arising that hoisting of tariff barriers might inspire discrimination against American grain on the part of foreign buyers.

The Chicago gangster was called on to answer warrants growing out of the charges of false arrest he brought against Safety Director S. D. McCreary. This was a move by Capone following the orders to the police to take him into custody on sight, part of a movement to keep him out of the community.

Capone had heard the court this morning order the padlock proceedings dismissed for lack of evidence on the nuisance charges, and had started for his Palm Island abode when news came of the new warrants.

Deputies Dispatched.

Deputy sheriffs were dispatched forthwith to serve the warrants. State's Attorney Vernon Hawthorne, prior to the issuance of the warrant, said:

"I am going to run this man out of here if it takes all summer. The respectable people of Dade county will not stand for his staying here to flaunt his presence before them."

Four allegations were filed, each charging a specific instance of false swearing by the Chicago gang leader while on the witness stand during the trial of McCreary.

Charge False Testimony.

The charges contend Capone swore falsely that McCreary ordered

Attacks Hoover's Action In Withholding Naval Papers.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(I. N. S.)—Refusal of President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson to give the senate foreign relations committee all of the documents leading up to the London pact "makes me frankly suspicious," Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, said today.

"I believe that the senate should have all of the documents on the London treaty," he added, "and personally I am willing to vote for a secret executive session of the senate should President Hoover inform us that making public these papers might not be to the interest of the American people. But I do believe that the senate should have all of them before we pass on the treaty."

He said if the senate foreign relations committee insisted upon its demand for the withheld papers "this session of the senate will not adjourn for two weeks or more."

RETIRED PASTOR TAKEN BY DEATH

Rev. S. T. Walker Had Served In Ministry Since 1897.

As Rogers Sees It

BOSTON, June 14—The senate committee demanding every little confidential paper exchanged between Mr. Hoover and Ramsey MacDonald (in supposed confidence) is just like a couple producing their marriage certificate in court. But who would be made to go back and produce all the love leters they wrote to each other during the courtship. Mr. Hoover ought to be like the bishop. Tell 'em it's none of their business. But the senate is not as scared of the president as they are of the bishop. The president don't control the Methodist vote. What does the senate do with all the knowledge they demand from other people? They never seem to use it.

YOURS, WILL.

kept eighty-five senators and crowded galleries in an uproar as he made an old fashioned protective tariff speech, parried in humorous vein thrusts of the coalition, and then concluded with a prediction that the nation would be much better off in thirty days with the bill out of the way.

Senators Borah of Idaho, the independent republican pilot, and Robinson of Arkansas, minority leader, let loose a double-barreled charge against the bill after others had forecast the legislation would be made a major issue in the coming elections.

'WETTEST BLOCK IN U. S.' FOUND IN GOTHAM RAID

Washington Dry Agents Use Moving Vans to Remove Liquor.

ONLY 16 ARRESTED IN 5 RESTAURANTS

Hundreds of Patrons Merely Ordered to Leave.

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)—A group of prohibition agents from Washington raided five restaurants in West Forty-fifth street shortly before midnight and seized so much liquor that one of the agents remarked, "It must be the wettest block in the United States."

The raids on the five places, located between Eighth and Ninth avenues in the midtown theatrical district, were made simultaneously. The agents, armed with crow bars and sledgehammers, paired off and at a signal knocked at the doors and told the doormen to open or the doors would be knocked down. No force was needed.

Sixteen persons, including proprietors, managers, waiters and cooks were arrested on information previously obtained. Hundreds of persons dining in the various places were ordered to leave. Moving vans were used to cart the seized liquor to a warehouse.

Stock Prices Pushed Lower

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)—Insofar as the stock market was inclined to take notice today of the senate's passage of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill late yesterday, its interpretation was bearish. Stocks continued the decline which has been under way, with minor interruptions, for a fortnight, but trading was dull and highly professional. Losses of $2 to $5 a share was numerous, with a few issues breaking more widely.

A score of issues were depressed to new lows for the year, but there was no recurrence of the urgent liquidation which appeared earlier in the week. The total turnover for the two-hour session was but moderately more than 1,000,000 shares. The list displayed little resistance to selling, however, and prices crumbled rather rapidly.

It was recalled that the stock market paid little attention to the high tariff measure of 1922, and in view of such bearish developments as gurther heaviness of wheat, carrying July wheat under $1 a bushel, sagging copper prices, and unimpressive week-end mercantile and business reviews, brokers stated that the importance of the tariff as a market factor was difficult to estimate.

Fight Demurrer In Annexation Case

East O Street Property Owners Contend State Law On Question Unconstitutional.

Charging that the state statute relating to annexation of property by a city is unconstitutional and that it leaves no remedy at law, attorneys for three property owners on East O street, asked Judge Chappell Saturday morning to overrule a demurrer of the city of Lincoln to three suits. In these suits the property owners seek to check annexation of land each side of O street for a mile beyond the former city limits. The land was needed by the city for construction of water mains to the new veterans hospital.

The city contended that the land owners should have brought quo warranto proceedings instead of an equity action. Attorneys for Bertha W. Taylor, Ellen E. Taylor and Blanche Witham, land-owners affected held that the equity action was their only means of securing quick relief from what threatened to be a nitnolerable taking of private property. They claimed their private rights were invaded by the city's attempted annexation without giving them any chance for appeal. The statute permitting such action, they claim, is arbitrary and discriminatory. Even if the statute is legal, they hold, the fact that the lands are entirely agricultural bars the city from annexing them.

Lincoln May Get Next Convention Of Cosmetologists

An attempt will be made to bring the 1931 convention of the Nebraska cosmetologists to Lincoln, Miss Agnes F. Schmitt declared Saturday on her return from Omaha where plans were made for this year's meeting. Three thousand persons are expected to attend the convention this year, which will be the first held in Nebraska. The two-day convention opens at Omaha on July 14.

Plans also were discussed to send representatives to the national convention at Washington, D. C. in September. Hazel Shinn of Des Moines, Ia., secretary of the Iowa state board of cosmetology, was the principal speaker at the Omaha meeting. Miss Schmitt was among the speakers.

NORRIS TO ACT IN GOLDHURST'S CASE

Hears Sentence of Head of Brokerage Firm With Which Cannon Traded Has Been Commuted.

WASHINGTON, June 14 — (AP) — Senator Norris said today he would introduce a resolution Monday asking the department of justice whether the sentence of Harry L. Goldhurst, former head of the stock brokerage concern with which Bishop James Cannon, jr., traded, has been commuted.

The Nebraskan heard Goldhurst's five-year sentence has been commuted to two years and that "high officials" had attempted to have this action taken. He said the resolution would not mention Bishop Cannon.

Under it the justice department would be requested to furnish the senate with correspondence pertaining to any effort to obtain commutation for Goldhurst.

DAWES EXPECTS PACT APPROVAL

Calls Treaty Greatest Step Toward Naval Arms Reduction.

NEW YORK, June 14 — (AP) — Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to England, arriving home for a month's stay, declared the London naval treaty represented the greatest step ever taken toward naval reduction and limitation and expressed the opinion that the treaty would be ratified by all the powers concerned. General Dawes was a member of the American delegation.

"The general public of the world, in my judgment," he said, "realizes the vital importance of the ratification by the powers concerned of the naval treaty, and that in the outcome of this issue primarily lies a present advance or retardation of the cause of world peace. I am confident that the treaty will be ratified.

Denies To Resign.

"The treaty represents the greatest step ever taken in naval reduction and limitation, and at the same time secures parity for the United States which could only be attained by fifteen years' naval ruce and a cost of $2,000,000,000, during which time we would have naval inferiority and curtailment of other useful government activities. It protects us both in the Atlantic and in the Pacific.

General Dawes disposed of rumors that he intended resigning by saying he would return to England in a month. He said he had come to attend the graduation of his son, Dana, at the Lawrenceville school in New Jersey, and to attend to private matters. He planned to go to Washington tomorrow.

RADIO BROADCAST IS SYNCHRONIZED BY TWO STATIONS

NEW YORK, June 14—(I. N. S.)—A radio discovery which may mean the transforming of the narrow congested ether cowpath into a broad highway was announced today.

Heralded as forecasting far-reaching results for the radio listener and the radio industry, successful trials of a means for operating two radio broadcasting stations on the same wave lenth have been accomplished by the Western Electric company.

The system can be extended indefintely, barring geographical obstacles, according to E. L. Nelson, radio development engineer of the Bell Telephone labratories.

"The system will eventually mean a great economic saving, an increased service with more varied programs to radio listeners, and a clearing of congestion in the air," said Nelson.

The tests were made at station WOC at Davenport, Ia., and WHO at Des Moines, both owned by the Central Broadcasting company.

"This syncronization device will probably mean that in time the sixty broadcasting stations in the country operating on 100 wave lengths may be increased to approximately 2,000 stations on the same number of wave lengths," J. A. Merquelin, Western Electric Co. engineer said.

Fog Still Ties Up Shipping In New York Harbor

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)—Shipping in New York harbor was still tied up today as a result of a heavy fog that descended early yesterday.

A number of inbound ships remained at anchor off Quarantine rather than risk the hazardous trip to their piers, while many outbound vessels delayed their departure or made their way out at greatly reduced speed.

The North German Lloyd Liner Europa, speed queen of the seas, crept through the almost impenetratable mist to her Brooklyn pier last night, eight hours behind schedule.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS.

HOLLYWOOD — Some pathetic figures in Hollywood:

The big he-man actor, master of every situation on the screen, but at home virtually under the thrumb of "the little woman."

The washed-up star who splurges desperately with full-page ads in film trade journals.

The matinee idol of other years pausing near a theater to gaze sadly at his daughter's name in the marquee mazdas.

The Broadway star, who expected Hollywood to genuflect at her approach.

The chorus girl who is developing varicose veins.

The star who talks about her "next picture"—unaware that her contract is not to be renewed.

The erstwhile extra girl who considers her bright new contract sufficient reason to snub her former friends.

Mae Sues Again.

Mae Murray has filed another law-suit, this time over an apartment house controversy.

Her most recent, until now, was against the producers of her only talkie, "Peacock Alley," because they did not star her in another.

She is probably Hollywood's most inveterate suit-filer. If anyone ever sues Miss Murray, that will be news!

Jiggs, the dog star of the all-barkie comedies, has lost his job. Temperament was blamed.

The next barkie, incidentally, will be "The Dogway Melody," modeled after the film revues and "The Broadway Melody."

Simile: Inseparable as Jack Oakie and his sweatshirt.

Notes In Passing.

One advantage of being a movie actor is that one with a "black eye" doesn't have to use the old story about bumping into a door. He can pass it off as make-up.

Claudette Colbert will not return to California after her world tour with her husband, Norman Foster, but will make talkies in New York.

"Hell's Angels," opening at last, sets a new high mark locally for premiere ticket prices, with $11 top. And next day "regular prices will prevail!

Crashing Made Easier.

Having a brother or sister in the movies makes it easier for one to crash the screen, but it is never an infallible entree.

"Legacies," in the vernacular of the college frat, are welcomed to the movies contract lists only when they show promise of equaling or exceeding the already-in relatives in talent.

The younger Rogers with the strange name of Bh found it easy to take a screen test, but he had to prove his acting ability before he was signed.

Trail-Blazers.

Sally O'Neil similarly opened the doors of opportunity to her sister, Molly O'Day.

Lola Lane recently did the same for Leota her former vaudeville team-mate, Colleen Moore for her brother Cleve, and Mary Pickford, years ago, for Jack.

Joan Crawford has a brother, Hal LeSeuer, who has made little movie progress.

Although Terry Carroll has been used in pictures in the east by sister Nancy's studio, thus far she has not set the screen afire.

Violet LaPlante, sister of Laura, worked in pictures for some time and finally gave up to go on the stage.

There are others who, like Victor McLaglen's brother, Arthur, a sculptor by profession, dabble at picture work more for fun than anything else.

Turning the Tables.

Occasionally, however, the newcomer, given a chance principally because of such a relationship, stays to outshine the star.

Thus did Sidney Blackmer, who came west with a stage reputation but was known here principally as Lenore Ulric's husband.

He remained to become a star while Lenore, both her talkies failures, returned to the stage.

And Frankie Lee, who some years ago a splendid performance as a child actor, was summoned for a similar role by a studio which forgot that he had grown up.

With Frankie was his baby brother, who was spied by Al Jolson. That incident gave the screen its Sonny Boy—Davey Lee.

Babcock Awarded Prize For Most Distinguished Service to Agriculture

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)— The Capper award of $5,000 and a gold medal for the most distinguished service to American agriculture today was awarded to Stephen Moulton Babcock, professor of agricultural chemistry at the University of Wisconsin, for his invention of the Babcock test for butterfat in milk.

Dr. Babcock invented his butterfat test in 1890. Ten years later, he was awarded the grand prize of honor by the international jury at Paris despite the fact he was not an exhibitor.

EIGHT KNOWN DEAD IN CHILEAN STORM

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, June 14—(AP)—A storm sweeping southern Chile during the night caused at least eight deaths. It was feared the casualty list would be much larger.

Wires were down, but emergency wireless communication reported deaths of five adults and three children at Vichuquen, where twenty houses and police headquarters were demolished.

Valparaiso, Vina Del Mar, San Antonio and this city all suffered from the wind and rain. Several boats were sunk off Valparaiso, but no casualties were reported.

leveled and the barn unroofed. There four persons were killed.

Buildings Levelled.

Several persons were injured at the Pine Point cottage colony north of Menominie, and many buildings were levelled. One man was injured and several barns destroyed at Iron Creek, eight miles east of Menominie. Warehouses and several smaller units of the Evans-Lee Lumber company were blown down or otherwise damaged.

The roof of the Beauregard Hotel at Eau Claire was blown off and carried against the front of the Security State bank building. The roof was blown off Jensen Brothers Drugstore.

Thousands of trees were blown down in the west section of the city, tearing down wires and blocking streets. Some trees were blown against houses, wrecking roofs and fronts.

A $1,000,000 Brewery At Chicago Burns

Plant That Brought Fortunes to Druggan and Lake Destroyed.

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—A $1,000,000 brewery through which Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, beer barons, were reputed to have made their fortunes was destroyed by fire early today.

The plant, a five story brick structure at Twenty-first street and Albany avenue on the southwest side, occupied a full block. The blaze started on the second story from an undetermined cause. The entire fire fighting equipment of the west and southwest divisions was called out, but the flames had spread throughout the brewery before firemen arrived.

Soon afterward, the roof caved in carrying a water tower with it. The flames shot hundreds of feet in the air and attracted a crowd estimated at 15,000.

HOOVER COMES TO DEFENSE OF NAVAL TREATY

Declares Pact Contains Nothing Outside Of Written Agreement.

President States Real Issue Competitive Building.

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—President Hoover today stood sponsor for the statement that the London naval pact contains "not one scintilla of agreement or obligation of any character outside the treaty itself."

This assertion was regarded as having been evoked by the insistence of senate opponents of ratification that the administration give the foreign relations committee confidential documents having to do with the negotiation of the pact. Their request has been refused.

In further reply to this group the president said the senate "through two of its members on the delegation has had a practical participation in every step of the making of the treaty."

Analyzing the cruiser provision of the pact, Mr. Hoover said the opposition to these is based upon "a very small part of the fleet."

These assertions were contained in a statement issued by the president late yesterday. It was the second defense of the treaty to come from the administration in twenty-four hours. Secretary Stimson on Thursday night delivered a radio address appealing for prompt ratification.

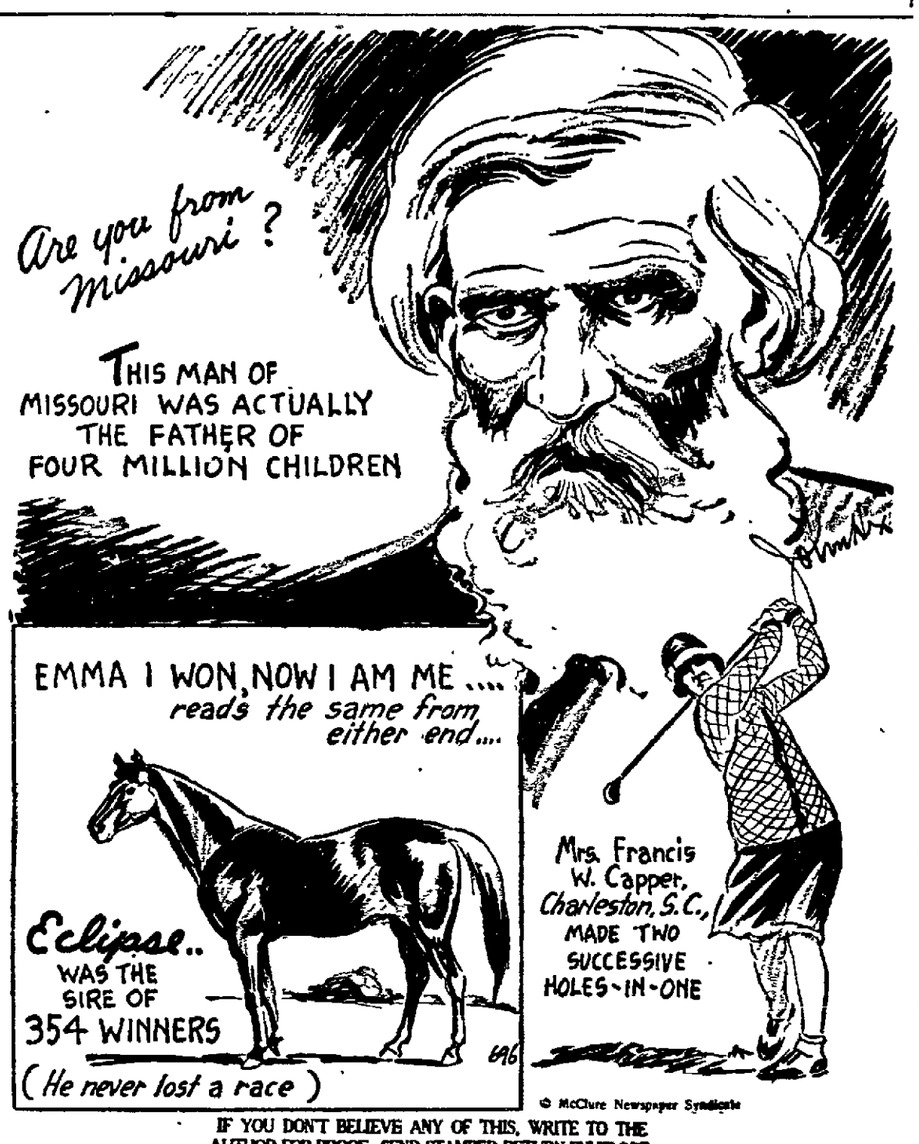

Competitive Building Issue.

"The real issue in the treaty," Mr. Hoover said, "is whether we shall stop competitive naval building with all the destruction and dangers to international goodwill which continuation on these courses implies; whether we shall spend an enormous sum in such a race to catch up with competitors, with no assurance that we will reach parity and proportionate strength even with such an expenditure; and whether the present agreement gives us a substantial parity and proportionate strength and therefore with our army absolute defensive power, and accomplishes this by an agreement which makes for goodwill, for decrease in the naval armament of the world, and puts our program of naval renewals and cruiser construction at a cost far less than would otherwise be required."

He pointed out that the treaty provides for "parity of our battleship fleets almost at once instead of ten years hence." This, he said, will be accomplished without building a single new ship.

The senate foreign relations committee, which has the treaty under consideration was in recess today for the week-end. Chairman Borah will call the members together on Monday, and hopes to obtain a favorable report on the pact within a few days.

New Tariff
Cheaper Diamonds, Pearls
Power, More of It
Higher Speed, on Water

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The new tariff passes the senate, and one of the richest, most forceful men in Wall street says: "That means the election of a democrat in 1932."

It depends on the nomination. Some things are more important to voters than the tariff.

Farmers looking through the increased rates will find an effort to help them, adding 100 per cent to the duty on cream, increasing heavily duties on others of his production.

Some will be glad to hear that the duty on pearls and diamonds has been cut in two.

This is done not to oblige those that want jewelry, but to diminish smuggling, by making it less profitable.

Important to the human race are physical powers, and mental power. Mental power has stood still for about 2,000 years. Physical power is constantly increasing.

A German has found a way to increase the power of engines, gasoline, Diesel or steam, from 20 to 60 per cent. His new kind of turbine uses the power of exhaust gases.

Lufthansa, great German air company, has ordered a Diesel engine built on the new plan, for airplane experiment. Fuel oil will be used.

Germany leads the world in mechanical invention, and in chemistry.

Professor Claude, one of the world's most distinguished physicists, informs the French Academy of Science that he is making progress in his effort to utilize power from the ocean.

A small fraction of the tide's power would make all other power unnecessary. The tides, once harnessed, would run our machinery as long as the sun and moon combine to raise and drop the waters of the ocean.

Professor Claude's experiments do not use the warm water at the surface of tropical seas to operate a turbine, the water being converted to steam by means of a vacuum. Cold water from the depths of the sea is used to recondense the steam, and renew the vacuum.

It is complicated for the nonscientific mind, but if there is "an inexhaustible store of power in tropical sea-water," that certainly will make a great difference to enormous populations living near the equator in comparative idleness.

The death of Sir Henry Segrave, brilliant, courageous Englishman, will be regretted everywhere.

He had developed new speeds in motorboats and automobiles, and was killed Friday when a boat in which he was going 100 miles an hour turned over and sank.

Major Segrave had shown that man's speed afloat can be greatly increased. Nature supplies in water, perfect, ball-bearing surface, the drops of water rolling one over the other, without friction.

A water speed of 500 miles an hour could be obtained with the right ship construction and adequate application of power.

New ideas are needed in ship construction, in screws, wheels or other driving power.

Budapest is enjoying a congress of delegates from various nations opposed to prohibition. Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, distinguished British surgeon, says alcohol has made man kind, pleasanter, better, easier to live with. And wine will be "enjoyed" as long as the race of man lasts.

He attributes our American crime wave to the Volstead act, pointing out that crime in Europe, with no prohibition, is steadily decreasing.

The amazing thing is not that alcohol is "pleasant," but that, as a rule, nations and individuals that use no alcohol have not been among the most successful.

Examine an accepted list of the 1,000 greatest men in history. You will not find 10 teetotalers.

Among nations, you see 300,000,000 nonalcoholic asiatics in India, easily held down by a small crowd of Englishmen, whom prohibition interests not in the least.

Mr. Lucas, federal trade commissioner, says purchasers of $29,000,000 worth of securities issued by the W. B. Foshay Co. of Delaware and Minnesota, will get exactly nothing.

Possibly somebody will go to jail.

What about companies that, in the insane gambling period issued and sold stocks in single companies up to 5, 6, 7 hundred million and more, outrageously watered, causing buyers to lose hundreds of millions, instead of $29,000,000? Will anything happen to them? No, they are wholesalers.

New Jersey Woman Must Go To Chair

Mrs. Evans Sentenced to Death as Result of Mate's Slaying.

TOM'S RIVER, N. J., June 14—(AP)—Lester Underdown and Mrs. Hattie Evans were found guilty today of the murder of Robert Evans, the woman's husband, and were sentenced to die in the electric chair. The jury made no recommendation for mercy.

The jury brought in a verdict at 7:32 o'clock this morning. It had deliberated for two hours and a half last night before being locked up for the night.

Mrs. Evans and Underdown, a United States marine attached to the Lakehurst, N. J., naval air station, were indicted with two other marines, Claude Carmichael and Madison Chappel, for the killing of Evans and his friend, Albert Duffy.

The state charged Mrs. Evans formulated the plan and that Underdown, with whom she admitted intimacy, carried it out. The two men were killed in Evans' cottage near the air station on May 16, two days after Evans was discharged from the navy.

LEADERSHIP IS FARMERS' NEED

S. R. McKelvie Speaks On Condition Of Agriculture.

BROOKINGS, S. D. June 14 — Agriculture's greatest need today is constructive leadership, Sam R. McKelvie, member of the federal farm board, said in an address before the graduating class of the South Dakota State college, Brookings, S. D., at commencement exercises Friday evening.

"I mean unselfish leadership of men and women who are not controlled by prejudice or prompted by expediency," Mr. McKelvie explained; "and out of institutions like the South Dakota State college much of that leadership will inevitably come. I look with the most hopeful anticipation upon boys and girls now engaged in 4-H club work. The things they are being taught largely through experience will qualify them to think and act along sound lines in later life. All too few of them reach the heights of academic training that have been attained by the members of this graduating class; but even so, experience is the best teacher and education, plus experience must be the qualifications for sound leadership in agriculture."

Discusses Marketing Act.

Discussing the agricultural marketing act, which as a member of the federal farm board he is helping to administer, Mr. McKelvie said the best this legislation can do is to bring about equality of opportunity for the farmer and as soon as possible leave with the farmer the responsibility for doing things that the government is now undertaking to assist him do."

"Laws," he continued, "were passed for industry, labor, banking, transportation, and what not. In so far as there were benefits from these laws, the farmer shared somewhat in them, but the condition of agriculture required that something specifically must be done for the nation's basic industry; hence the agricultural marketing act. This law is predicated upon the ability of the farmer to manage his own business, once he is organized to do so. Cooperation is the key to it and only in exceptional cases can the federal farm board have any dealings with a farmer or anyone else who is not a member of a producer-owned and producer-controlled marketing unit.

"The extent to which this law may be helpful to the farmer and ultimately successful in its purpose, rests almost wholly in the farmer himself. If he takes advantage of it and develops the right kind of leadership and management in his marketing affairs, it will succeed. If he listens to the sweet siren of those who are opposed to it, it will fail."

AMES, Neb., June 10—(AP)—Driving his car on to the track directly in the path of an onrushing Union Pacific limited train, John S. Bernascek, 18, Dodge, was killed late yesterday. He had waited at the crossing for a freight to pass and had started up immediately after it had gone by.

Bernasek was on his way to a construction camp west of here to see his father, Jerome Bernasek. His car was carried over a quarter of a mile before the engineer could bring the train to a halt.

He is survived by his parents, four brothers and two sisters.

LINGLE SLAYING FURORE GROWS

Newspapers Attack What They Term "Crime-Politics Alliance."

Daily News Estimates $5,785,000 Paid Weekly Into Gangland Coffers.

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—The civic furore touched off by the slaying of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, a Tribune reporter, veered strongly today against the city administration.

While newspapers renewed their front page editorial attacks on what they termed "an alliance between crime and politics," strength was gained in the city council by those seeking an investigation of the police department.

Alderman Arthur Albert, who pressed Mayor William Hale Thompson to remove Police Commissioner William Russell and Chief of Detectives John Stege "for sixty days at least," said six councilmen pledged their support last night for a full investigation of the department.

The Herald-Examiner said Mayor Thompson "hinted vaguely he was considering their removal."

Gangland Income Large.

The Daily News, reporting an investigation made by its staff, "conservatively estimated" that $5,785,000 was paid weekly into gangland's coffers through operation of speakeasies, gambling houses and handbooks, disorderly houses and racketeering.

"There are 6 000 speakeasies operating normally in Chicago," the News said, "where draft beer, whisky and gin may be had. These speakeasies average six barrels of beer and two cases of whisky a week, men in the racket say. The beer costs $55 a barrel — whisky $90 a case."

Including the speakeasies, The News added, there are "some 15,000 places in the city which are outlets for alcohol, drug stores which peddle gin, cigar stores which peddle gin, and beer flats with gin or yockey-dock (a caramel-colored whisky imitation)."

SIR HENRY SEGRAVE.

The fate of Sir Henry Segrave was that which is the common lot of every explorer.

He died of the injuries received when a motor boat with which he hoped to establish new world speed records, turned over while traveling at a speed estimated at 100 miles an hour. He was a gallant Englishman, brilliant, without fear, and beyond question one of the most skillful automobile and motor boat drivers in the world. He had driven both faster than any other human being, and it was his own mark which he was shooting at when death overtook him in the fatal tests.

This is a little world when the vast changes in communication and transportation are taken into consideration but it remains a big one, and a busy one for the individual. Only a little over a year ago, the American people were electrified by the announcement that Segrave piloted his little racing car over the smooth, white sands of Daytona Beach, at a speed of 231 miles an hour. Overnight Segrave became the idol of the British people, although he had already filled a hero's role in recognition of his daring exploits in the aviation service during the war. Great crowds greeted him upon his return to England; the king elevated him to the rank of knight. Then, in response to the plea of his wife to abandon automobile racing because of its great dangers, he disappeared from public view, only to again claim the headlines when he took up motor boat racing.

Segrave was every inch an explorer in the new fields of science and mechanics. Before the automobile and the airplane, it was the frozen wastes of the North and the South Poles, the endless expanse and heat of desert sands, and the tangled, suffocating jungles of equatorial lands which claimed adventuresome souls. They endured great physical discomforts—hunger, cold, heat—braved the threat of unfriendly peoples and savage animals—and gambled with death in the menace of fevers and other bodily ailments. It was a great restlessness which drove them on, a passionate longing to invade fields where others had not been, an unquenchable curiosity to be the first to unlock the secrets of the unknown.

Here was Segrave, with the laurels of driving his 900-horsepower Golden Arrow racing car 231.81 miles an hour faster than any man had ever driven. He had succeeded in beating the record of Ray Keech made a little more than a year before in a specially constructed racer constructed by J. M. White of Philadelphia by such an impressive record that it appeared his achievement would defy all challenges for some years to come. Segrave was a very likable young chap, admired and respected and honored. He had a charming wife and a happy home—all to live for that most of us count worthwhile. Why then should he have staked his precious life upon another speed record?

That is the question which more than one white-faced woman has had to answer as she bid her husband goodbye before he journeyed forth to the new conquest. That is the torturing thought which has sharpened the grief and sorrow of every wife and mother when the broken body of her husband or son has been brought home to her. Why do men do it? It is the law of progress. There always will be men willing and ready to risk life upon the gamble of adventure. It is that which sends them forth with a smile upon their lips to the unknown fate of the explorer.

Nebraska's summer school enrollment has been discouraging the last two years to those anxious for substantial annual increases. Since it is designed largely for teacher training, the figures lend some credence to the belief that teacher training has been overdone a bit.

Teachers were saved a lot of grief this year by the warm weather holding off until school was out. The old swimming hole would have felt mighty good Thursday.

TEACHERS COLLEGES AGAIN.

The reaction of Dr. Boyd H. Bode, director of the department of principals and vocational education at Ohio State university ,to criticism of teachers' colleges as expressed here last week by Dr. Paul Shorey, University of Chicago lecturer, given in an interview Friday, furnishes the groundwork for the typical reacion of teachers' college officials throughout the country.

Dr. Bode was more liberal than most such workers when he admitted that there was a limit to methodology and that such work might have been carried too far. Usually the reaction is to rise to a defense of the teachers' college system, to scorn criticism, and to declare the importance and permanence of the place of teachers' college work in the modern educational field.

It is perhaps true as Dr. Bode stated that the teachers' college arose as the necessary complement to mass production in education. Mass production of teachers was necessary to handle the horde of students. Persons of inferior mental capacity had to be drafted into the teaching ranks. Incapable of self development, they had to be guided and directed. Teachers' college methodology helped to make them passable teachers.

It is also true that the teachers' college has a definite, permanent, and useful position, the general impression which Dr. Bode apparently desired to leave. The thing that Dr. Bode apparently failed to recognize and which teachers' college workers so thoroughly do fail to recognize is that the function of the teachers' college, while useful is limited. It is not and cannot be the whole story in a successful educational system.

The whole tendency of the teachers' colleges of the country has been to expand their requirements, to increase the number of courses necessary for teachers' certification. Every increase means a corresponding decrease in subject matter. Unless some courageous educators take the lead, the teachers' college movement threatens to engulf the American educational system. It threatens to turn education into a current of method, without the rich flowing stream of content, which is the intellectual heritage of the culture of the ages.

It is not methodology itself which Dr. Shorey was attacking nor which the few thoughtful critics of the teachers' college movement assail. It is the making of methodology the be-all and end-all of education, the carrying it to an extreme, which is the real focus of the attack on the teachers' college movement. There is a real need for a rational analysis of the relative requirements of content and of methodology in the preparation of teachers in state supported schools. The teachers' college has been given too free sway. Its ring of methodologically trained teachers and directors and principals, and superintendents and deans, needs to be modified by contact with those leaders in work which furnish the groundwork for the knowledge of man. Each has a part in the educational program. It is important that neither runs away from the other.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

One of the most interesting educational efforts of the present time is the attempt to develop a new system of examinations. An attempt is being made in a number of eastern schools to work out a system of examinations which will test ability of students to use their knowledge rather than to test their mere acquirement of knowledge.

The work is a natural outgrowth of some of the teachers' college methodology work. Like the beginnings of that movement it holds promise of offering a substantial contribution to American educational practice. The memory test has never been an adequate guide to development of the intelligence. Yet it has been the memory test which has been the predominant factor in American educational circles. The emphasis upon the memory phase as opposed to the constructive thought phase, has, peculiarly enough, been accentuated in recent years by the increase in "false-true" examinations and other tests designed to spare pupils the difficulty of writing extended papers in which their real grasp of a subject may be disclosed and to spare teachers the time required to read such papers intelligently.

Although that type of examination has had serious faults, it is out of that movement that the new objective examination, activity-use type of examination, may be developed. Persons aware of the failure of the schools at times to develop in students the capacity to think and to express thought in constructive activity, will welcome a trend in the direction of such examinations which would place a premium upon a wholesome tendency.

There is a serious danger, the same danger that has permitted the teachers' college methodology courses to threaten to swamp out constructive subject matter courses. Method, activity, application are but one side of the educational process. Content is the other. In the past, the educational field has given undue emphasis to the content side of education. Project work and new teachers' college real-life attempts in the school-room have to some extent removed this over-emphasis. Attention needs to be given the schools, that in the attempt to develop what seems a more practical type of examination, the development of students with a rich background of subject matter may not be lost. True development can come only by a rounded growth of knowledge of unified information and knowledge of how to utilize it.

QUESTION.

Boise, Idaho

Who are the most dangerous enemies of our country? Would you consider the reds to be such?

ANSWER.

Anarchistic propaganda respects no restraints of religion, law or civilization. Anarchists are divided into two groups, the philosophical and the active, and that dvilsion should be kept in mind. Philosophical anarchism is largely theoretical, with a correspondingly small constituency. Active anarchism is confined to certain extreme elements responsible for infamous crimes and assassinations which usually occur where tyranny is rampant.

Both groups are negligible in the United States and have never seriously menaced its welfare. That is threatened by men and women who use patriotism as a mask for personal gain, financial or otherwise. The people who lend a ready ear to pleas for race prejudice and religious separatism are far more inimical to the unity and integrity of this republic than all the reds in the entire world.

The bearer of the fiery cross, the night rider, the hierarchies of ignorance and hoodlumism who have made life hideous in many of our rural communities, exhibit a virulent bigotry and provincial narrowness unparalleled in the history of this country. Those who sow hatred reap what they sow and are their own worst victims. They poison their own lives and lives of their children. Witch burners are extinct, but they bequeathed their ignoble passions to venomous coteries which assume that they are the elect of God, and as such privileged to exercise private vengeance. Fix your attention on these groups, for they are the real foes of genuine Americanism and its constitutional freedom. They will bear close watching.

QUESTION.

Chicago, Ill.

What would you suggest the Protestant ministers and churches should do to promote the growth of Christian unity?

ANSWER.

I urge the formation of local conferences in our various churches for the study and discussion of the subjects embraced in the program adopted at the Lausanne world conference on faith and order held in 1927. Reports of these local conferences should be sent to the secretary of the continuation committee, P. O. Box 226, Boston, Mass., who will be glad to give any information desired concerning the official proceedings of the conference itself and also of those of the sessions of the Continuation committee which have since been held.

The eight days of 1930 ending on Whitsunday (the seventh Sunday after Easter were designated by the continuation committee as a period for special prayer that the efforts now being made for Christian unity may be divinely directed. Indeed, your prayers are desired at all times that God will bless the movement for Christian oneness and prepare the hearts and minds of His children everywhere for reconciliation.

Ardent and patient effort is essential on the part of every one of us to promote study and discussion in our own constituencies concerning the cardinal points upon which agreement is necessaray before corporate union of any kind can be effected. Surely the reintegration of Christianity is the concern of every one who loves the Lord and treasures the church which is His body. It is high time we took our needless divisions to heart and resolved to understand and overcome them.

QUESTION.

Boston, Mass.

Why do you call Plato the father of theology? That jarred me as a Roman Catholic.

ANSWER.

I did not coin the title you mention. It has long been in use and originated with Dr. John Caird, an eminent British philosopher and theologian. Christians acquainted with the spiritual teachings of Plato and the Greek masters cannot fail to recognize their kinship with our experience as believers.

"God," said Plato, "is not far from every one of us, but is near to all without their knowing it. It is they themselves who flee away from Him or rather they flee away from their own true selves . . . We are not cut off from God . . but we breathe and consist in Him . . For since the soul is indeed other than God and yet from God, she loves and longs for Him of necessity."

What nobler interpretation of man's inmost being has any modern mind offered than this utterance of a truly inspired guide who lived and taught twenty-five centuries ago? Your own church, in common with all the churches, owes much to the profound experiences of Plato and the thought forms of Aristotle.

Much of the cheap, muddled and confused religious thinking of today could well afford to imitate the late Dr. George A. Gordon of your city by turning back to the ancient non-Christian sources of spirituality. They demonstrate that God has not left Himself without a witness at any time. We should be less than human and utterly lacking in historic imagination if we did not realize that these distant seekers and finders bequeathed to us their toils and triumphs and all earnings of their painful quest.

A·NICE·GIRL·COMES·TO·TOWN

By Maysie Greig

SYNOPSIS: During a visit to London Mary Lou Leslie is learning things about love. She came expressly to see Brynmor Whittamore, her sweetheart of last summer, but he is indifferent toward her. Brynmor has become enamored of Clarice Day, who dances at the Emerald Dragon. He takes Mary Lou to this night club, then deserts her to talk with Clarice. Overhearing Brynmor's conversation, Mary Lou hears him call her "too darn nice." Police raid the club, and Mary Lou escapes with Tony Titherington, a stranger with whom she has been dancing. Jumping through a window into Tony's flat, she lands in a bath tub full of water. Tony persuades her to don his pyjamas and bathrobe while her clothes dry. She tells Tony how she believed in Brynmor's love, and resolves to have a good time in London despite him. Tony asks her how she intends to do it, and Mary Lou says she doesn't know.

Chapter 4.

A SCHEME IS HATCHED.

"Look here," Tony said presently. "I'd like to help you. If I take you about, show you the sights, introduce you to some pals of mine who are good sports, will you do something for me?"

"If I could go back to Frinwood feeling I'd had a really good time, all that I expected and more, I— I think I'd do anything!" Mary Lou replied.

"Oh, isn't so bad as that," Tony [illegible] "I merely want to take [illegible] to introduce you to [illegible]

[illegible] was amazed. "Why?" [illegible] at her. "All [illegible] that when [illegible] I want [illegible] to in— [illegible] god- [illegible] from, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Mary Lou laughed, too. She couldn't help it. Her laughter cleared the air. Her eyes rested on the clock on the mantel shelf.

"Heavens!" she exclaimed. "It's four o'clock. Jay will be having a fit. She'll think I'm dead or something."

"Who is Jay?"

"She's my cousin. I'm staying with her. She and her husband have a studio in Chelsea. What will she think?"

"Give her a ring," suggested Tony. "Explain what's happened."

"It's awfully late. I hate to disturb her.

"Well, if she's having a fit, she won't be asleep." Tony pointed out. "Here's the jolly old phone book."

A sleepy voice answered Mary Lou's call.

"Jay? It's Mary Lou."

Jay evidently was struggling to [illegible] awake.

"[illegible] are you, child?"

[illegible] Mr. —" Mary Lou suddenly remembered she didn't even know Tony's other name. "In a man's flat."

Mary Lou explained her predicament to Jay over the phone.

"What are you doing there?"

"Waiting for my clothes to dry. I fell into the bath tub."

"How did you fall into the bath? Were you tight?"

"Oh, no" quickly. "I—I just slipped in."

"What are you wearing now?"

"His—his pyjamas and bathrobe." She blushed.

"Ye gods," from Jay. "And I thought I was entertaining a shy country cousin! I shall have my work cut out in the next few weeks!"

Another pause, and Jay said seriously, "Is he nice, child? You know what I mean."

"Oh, ever so nice," Mary Lou said quickly. "He—he wants me to stay the night here."

"I think I had better give him the once-over," Jay said decisively. "Get straight into a taxi, Mary Lou. Never mind about putting on the wet clothes. No one will notice what you have on at this hour of the morning. By the way, a pal of yours called about an hour or so ago, a tall, handsome fellow, with a black eye. He seemed mighty upset over your conduct tonight. I'll tell you the rest when I see you."

"That was Brynmor," Mary Lou gasped. Her amazement was tempered by a certain pleasure that Brynmor had bothered to call at Jay's flat. Could he have been so bored with her, after all?

"Now hurry home like a good child," said Jay. "I'll try to stay awake till you get here."

Tony didn't demur when Mary Lou told him the outcome of the conversation.

"I heard you giving me a good character," he grinned. She didn't reply. They gathered her damp clothes into a bundle, and Tony called a cab.

"At any rate," murmured Tony, when they were almost to Chelsea, "if you hadn't fallen into that bath tub we wouldn't have reached our agreement about my taking you to impress Aunt Ethelberta. Here's my card, the phone number's on it. Give me a ring when you get up. But don't make it too early. Maybe I'd better phone you instead."

"Please do," she said. The taxi drew up, and he helped her out. It was almost daylight.

"You may not be the latest word in girls, Mary Lou," Tony said sleepily, "but I'll say this for you. You're a good sport."

She flushed. She stammered something unintelligible, waved a hasty cheerio and fled up the stairs to Jay's flat. Tony gazed after her a moment, then climbed back into the cab.

"Nice little thing," was his inward comment. "And if she'll work the trick with Aunt Ethelberta, I'll be her slave for life."

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Peter Is Given a Scare

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Most people like a little joke.
But some, alas, it doth provoke.
—Jerry Muskrat.

Starnose the Mole abruptly bade Peter Rabbit good by and disappeared into one of his numerous tunnels. He had remained out an unusually long time for Starnose. Perhaps it was because he had had an unusually big worm. He needed it. Starnose has an unusually big appetite. You know, food makes what we call energy. The more energy one uses, the more food is needed to make new energy. The members of the Mole family are full of energy. Such workers as they are! And it isn't easy work. No, indeed, it isn't easy work. It is hard work. Digging is always hard work and the Moles are the greatest diggers of whom I know. They eat in order to dig and they dig in order to eat; for it is to find the worms that much of their digging is done.

After Starnose had disappeared, Peter sat close to the edge of the bank of the Smiling Pool and back to it. It was very nice over there by the Smiling Pool; it was very pleasant. Over in the alders, Redwing the Blackbird was singing. Peter always did like to hear Redwing sing. In the Smiling Pool itself some of the Frog folk were singing now and then. Over on the far side of the Smiling Pool Grandfather Frog was saying, "Chug-a-rum! Chug-a-rum! Chugarum!" in a great deep voice.

Peter's eyes kept shutting. Then he would open them with a start, only to close them again. In a little while Peter was actually asleep. Of course, it was a very light sleep, for Peter is far too wise to ever sleep heavily. Jerry Muskrat came swimming along with nothing in particular to do. He looked up and saw Peter sitting on the bank. Jerry stopped swimming and floated for a few minutes, looking very hard at Peter. Then Jerry grinned. Once more he began to swim. He swam until he was right back of and below Peter. He looked up at Peter's back. Then he grinned once more. What do you think he did then? He dived, and as he did so he brought his tail down hard on the water. When that tail slapped the water it made a sudden sharp noise. Peter's eyes flew open. At the same time he came to life in other ways. He bounced away, lipperty-lipperty-lipperty-lip, and was well out in the Green Meadows before he really knew what he was doing. All he knew was that he had been frightened by a sudden noise. Now he stopped and looked all around. He looked back toward the Smiling Pool. Nowhere could he see anything that was cause for fright.

He hesitated a few minutes. Then very slowly he began to make his way back toward the Smiling Pool. Every few steps he would stop to situp, look and listen. S at last he got back to the place where he had been sitting. He looked all over the Smiling Pool. It was as peaceful as it had been before he dozed off. Apparently there was nothing and there was no one to account for the sudden fright Peter had had.

"I must have dreamed it," thought Peter. "That's it; I dreamed it. That's what comes of dozing off in broad daylight."

Just then Jerry Muskrat started to swim across the Smiling Pool toward where Peter was sitting. "Hello, Peter!" said Jerry. "When did you come from?"

"I've been here a long time," said Peter.

"My mistake," replied Jerry. "I sure thought I saw you coming from over there on the Green Meadows. It must have been some one else." Jerry's eyes were twinkling as he said this. Peter turned his head to look back. Jerry's tail struck the water again—slap!—and Jerry disappeared beneath the surface. Peter jumped and all but jumped right into the Smiling Pool.

He looked up and saw Peter sitting on the bank.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M. D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children."

WOMAN WHO WEIGHS 300 POUNDS PLANS WALKING TRIP TO REDUCE.

QUESTION

"Dear Doctor: I want to ask you a few question: I am 5 ft. 2 in. tall and weigh about 300 pounds. Am in good health. I have tried most of the different methods of reducing, but none of them helped me (at times I gained faster after I went back to the regular diet). I find that fasting doesn't work with me, either. I have raised three children, and my work consists of the care of five adults, washing, ironing, cooking, and the care of a seven-room house, and all this does not permit me to get outside exercise. After my work is finished I simply cannot walk, and if I walk first, my work must go.

"So I have planned to walk (not hitch-hike) to Los Angeles (I live in Iowa) this summer. I want to walk 20 miles a day, and at that rate, I figure, it will take me four months or longer. While on this trip, I plan to diet, also. Now, how many calories would I need a day, and how fast do you think that would reduce me? It could surely be more than 2 pounds a week, without harm? I feel this trip would completely make me over, and I would like to know what you think of it. MRS. P."

ANSWER.

You are planning a stupendous undertaking, Mrs. P., and whether you could do it, with your weight, is doubtful. You certainly couldn't start out by walking 20 miles a day, and whether you could ever reach that number daily is also doubtful. And, I imagine, there are long stretches where you would have to walk more than 20 miles to reach shelter for the night, so I don't see how you could do it. I think you're too ambitious altogether, and it isn't necessary to go to such extremes to reduce.

You might plan a short trip first, and see how it works. You'd have to pay particular attention to your feet, of course see that you have correct shoes and stockings. Usually one who is as much overweight as you are, has some degree of flat-foot and cannot walk much.

Walking, however, is one of the best exercises. Sherman says a person weighing 150 pounds, walking actively, at the rate of three and three-quarters miles per hour, uses up 300 C. You are twice that weight, so you would use up 600 C., if you would walk at that rate. In order to walk 20 miles during the day, you would have to walk steadily for six hours, and that would use up 3,600 C.

The maintenance diet is 15 to 20 calories per pound for normal body weight. Your normal weight should be around 122 pounds. As you are short, you would have to take the lowest number, 15 x 122 means around 1,800 C. As you would be using up 3,600 C. a day on your walk, you would be using up 2,000, practically, of your own body fat. 2,000 C. represents a half-pound, so theoretically you would lose about 3½ pounds a week. I nreality, you would probably lose more than that even if you were on your maintenance diet.

Losing so fast as this is all right if you do it on the scientifically correct diet, combined with exercise. But such a reduction should be under the supervision of a physician.

I suggest you send for the Peter-sizing pamphlet and go by its directions. You can lose all your excess—around 180 pounds—but you should take nearly two years to lose it, at the rate of about two pounds a week, and you probably wouldn't average that rate all the time.

See column rules for obtaining the pamphlet, Mrs. P.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in their turn. $2,000 Award Against Daughter of Wreck Victim is Appealed

A $2,000 verdict to the estate of a man killed in an automobile accident was appealed to the Supreme court Saturday by the daughter who was driving the car at the time of the wreck.

John Gagnon was killed when the automobile driven by his daughter, Helen Gagnon, overturned near Gregory. Miles Kelley, the administrator, began suit in the Richardson county District court in behalf of the widow and a minor son, asking $10,000 damages and alleging that Helen Gagnon had operated the car carelessly. It was asserted in the petition that the daughter had invited her father to ride in the car. Another daughter, Clara, and a son, Joe, who were in the car at the time, were made co-defendants.

The jury in District court returned a verdict against the defendants for $2,000 and they have appealed.

DIVORCE DECREE IS GRANTED TO DORRIS SEACREST

Dorris T. Seacrest was granted a divorce Saturday morning from Fred Seacrest on grounds of extreme cruelty in a decree signed by District Judge Chappell. The decree, drawn after a series of conferences by attorneys for the parties, provided for custody of the three children and money for their support.

The judge approved a contract entered into May 26 as to property interests and support money. Custody of the youngest child, June, 2, was given to Mrs. Seacrest and of the two older children, Mary, 10, and Jessie Ann, 7, to Mr. Seacrest. Each will have the right to visit children in custody of the other parent at reasonable times. Provision is made for division of time of the summer vacation between each of the parents.

Mr. Seacrest, by terms of the decree, will pay $90 a month for the support of the youngest daughter, until she is 8, $100 a month until she is 15, and $110 until she is 21 or married. He will also pay $600 a year for support of the other two children during the vacation periods when they are to be with mother.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

GRAIN MARKETS.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 14

Big breaks in all grain prices smashed low price records right and left today, and wheat falling under $1 a bushel touched 99c flat. In some quarters, senate adoption of the new tariff bill as Washington was construed as one of the chief depressing factors, on account of assertions that United States wheat may be discriminated against abroad because of advances in American import duties on commodities. As a rule, however, a general rush to sell which swept the grain markets downward was attributed mostly to the effect of further rains tending to dispel fear that drought would bring about severe curtailment of wheat yields in Canada.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½@2¾c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish (July 99¼@½; Sep. $1.01¾@⅞; Dec. 1.06¼@⅜).

Corn closed 2½@3¼c down, (July 71⅞@½; Sep. 76½@⅝; Dec. 71½@¾.)

Oats ½@1⅜c off, and provisions varying from 30c decline to a rise of 5c.

Free selling attributed largely to the northwest started the wheat market downward early today to new low levels for the season. Rye also broke, outdoing the season's bottom prices. Continued beneficial rains in Canada were reported. Opening unchanged to ½c off, wheat later underwent setbacks all around. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise weak, with corn starting ¼ to ⅝c down and then rallying but afterward tumbling fast.

With some cutting of wheat reported as already under way in southern Kansas and more expected on Monday, many wheat traders were in a bearish mood today, and promptly jumped to the selling side on account of further downpours over drought districts in Canada. Under such circumstances, and with rye values giving way rapidly, the wheat market took a decided new plunge downward to beneath any level heretofore reached for 1930 deliveries of wheat. Before the market was an hour old, July wheat representing the new crop now being harvested in the southwest had collapsed to $1.00 a bushel, and soon went much further, touching 99¾c a few minutes afterward.

Rebounding to above $1.00, the wheat fluctuated nervously thereafter, but failed to recover to last night's closing figures. General selling pressure was apparent in all the grain pits, and practically the entire list of future deliveries of cereals was at a low price standing surpassing any which until now had been witnessed for months past and in some cases unequalled in many years. Corn, which of late has shown comparative strength was today the weakest grain of any, and at one stage showed a drop of 2¾c a bushel.

Corn price weakness today was ascribed largely to the fact that closing of spreads between corn and rye left the corn the corn market without much buying support. There were also advices at hand indicating good prospects for the new corn crop, which was asserted to be now well fortified with moisture. Arrivals of corn in Chicago today totaled 154 cars, compared with 108 a week ago and 153 at this time last year.

Corn led in the decline today after having shown independent resistance to pressure for some time, and all deliveries dropped to a new low on the crop. Stop loss orders were caught, and the pit traders expressed belief that liquidation was under way. Country offerings of corn to arrive today were small, and eastern demand rather slow. The weather today was favorable for the new corn crop. Oats weakened with other grain and rye at the inside figure sold about the lowest since January, 1904, when the cash was down to 51c.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 14

Pronounced weakness featured the stock market today, heavy selling in the final hour sending active leaders in all sections of the list to sharply lower levels. Closing prices were at the low point of the session. The outstanding weakness of International Tel. & Tel., which broke to its lowest mark in years, 48½, a loss of 5 points for the day, caused general unsettlement on the market.

United States Steel closed 2¼ lower at 162½; Bethlehem Steel off ⅞ at 87⅛, Radio off 2¼ at 40⅝; American down 2⅛ at 123¾; American Tel. & Tel. off 2⅜ at 215⅝; General Electric down 2½ at 72½; Union Carbide off 2 at 75 and Sears Roebuck down 2 at 75⅛.

Utilities were under severe pressure, with Consolidated Gas slumping 4⅝ to 117¾. Columbia Gas & Electric closed 1⅞ lower at 72; United Corporation off 1⅞ at 36⅞; Public Service of New Jersey down 3¼ at 100⅝, and Electric Power & Light down 2⅞ at 76¾.

Coppers were extremely reactionary and Anaconda, American Smelting and other leaders fell to new low ground during the session.

Motors, Amusements and rails were weak. Many issues in these lists slumped to new low levels for the year.

Trading was of comparatively small proportions, total sales aggregating 1,255,700 shares, almost half of last week's total of 2,246,270 shares.

Reactionary tendencies developed on the stock market today after a generally firm opening and leading issues eased off to moderately lower levels. A few stocks, however, slumped to record lows for the year. Conspicuous weakness was manifested by International Telephone & Telegraph which, at mid-session, dropped to 50⅛, a net loss of 3⅜, and below the panic price of last October.

Selling of I. T. & T. was influenced by the fact that its statement on operations for the first quarter showed that dividend requirements had been barely earned.

Other stocks to fall to new low ground for the year included Underwood, Elliott Fisher, St. Joseph Lead, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and U. S. Freight. Several copper issues also slumped to new lows, notably Anaconda.

The weakness in the copper group was explained by the announcement of a further reduction in the price of the metal for domestic shipment to 12 cents. Anaconda eased off 2 points to 51, American Smelting 2⅝ to 65⅛ and Kennecott showed a loss of ¾ to 42.

Standard industrials, such as United States Steel, American Can and General Electric were influenced by the selling elsewhere in the list and ruled moderately lower. U. S. Steel sold off to 163¼, a net decline of 1¾, American Can dipped 1½ to 134 and General Electric fell off 1⅛ to 73⅛.

The utility issues, after responding to a good over-night buying demand which caused early prices to move upward slightly, were unable to retain their position in view of the general weakness and were forced to a lower level. Consolidated Gas sold off 2⅜ to 120; American & Foreign Power declined a point to 73½; Columbia Gas & Electric was down 1⅛ to 72⅝ and North American dropped 1¼ to 109½.

Amusement issues were again under pressure. Warner Brothers eased off 1⅜ to 50⅛, Radio-Keith was off ½ at 32½ and Loews declined 2⅛ at 74⅞.

Oils, after displaying strength during the first hour, weakened in sympathy with the general tone of the market. Standard of New Jersey sold off from its early high of 73 to 70⅞, a net decline from last night's close of 1⅝. Other members of this group acted accordingly.

Motors and rails were also adversely influenced by the continued selling and losses predominated in these issues.

Prices on the stock market opened generally higher today, with trading comparatively quiet. General Electric was up ¼ at 75¼, Westinghouse Electric up ⅛ at 157¼, American Can up 1⅞ at 136⅛.

United States Steel, at 165, was unchanged. Radio was also unchanged at 42⅞ and Air Reduction was unchanged too, at 139⅝.

Oils were buoyant, due to the announcement of an increase of crude oil prices on the Pacific coast. Standard Oil of California advanced ½ to 65½ at the opening, Atlantic Refining gained 1¼ to 39⅞ and Standard Oil of New Jersey was up ⅞ at 73.

A slight improvement was noted in the utility group. Electric Power & Light opened ⅜ higher at 80; Consolidated Gas up ⅛ at 122½ and American Tel. & Tel. advanced ⅛ to 217⅞.

Coppers were under pressure at the outset in view of further price cuttings in the red metals. Anaconda was off ½ at 52½ and Kennecott ruled fractionally lower at 42⅝.

Rails were somewhat easier. Chesapeake & Ohio declined 1½ to 179½, Southern Railway eased off ⅛ to 106⅛. New York Central was down ½ at 166 and Southern Pacific was unchanged at 115.

Other openings were: Mack Truck unchanged at 63⅞, Montgomery Ward unchanged at 41⅝ and Radio-Keith up ¼ at 33¼.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 14

Stocks broke sharply in the latter half of today's abbreviated session of the curb market, and losses on a wide scale were sustained in the pivotal stock leaders.

Electric Bond & Share was singled out for concentrated selling pressure in the utility group and it slumped to 88⅞ for a decline of 4½ points. Losses of like proportions were in evidence in such favorites as American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction (new) and Commonwealth Edison, while correspondingly smaller setbacks were sustained in American SuperPower, Middle West Utilities, Niagara Hudson Power, United Gas (new), and United Light & Power.

Cities Service offered stubborn resistance to the selling, and although at no time did it show rallying tendencies, it was off but ¼ at its low of 29¼.

A reactionary oil group was led by a 5-point break in Cosden at 48⅛, while Gulf, Humble, and the Standard Oil issues also gave way to unrelenting pressure.

Investment Trusts after displaying first hour steadiness were forced lower with Trans-America easing off 1¼ points to 32¾.

Ford of Canada A was heavily sold, dropping 2½ points to 33½, while the main body of miscellaneous issues tended steadily lower.

Irregularly higher prices featured today's opening on the curb. Electric Bond & Share was up ⅜ at 93⅝.

Cities Service was off ⅛ at 29¼. Niagara Hudson Power was unchanged at 19⅛. American Superpower up ⅝ at 28⅛. Associated Gas & Electric A off 35⅛. Pennroad up ¾ at 13⅛. United Gas (new) off ⅛ at 1,8 Shenandoah off ½ at 33⅞. Deere off ⅜ at 112, Vacuum up 1⅞ at 33⅞. Deere off ⅜ at 112, Vacuum up 1⅞ at 88½, and Standard Oil of Indiana up ⅜ at 51⅞.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 14

Bond prices eased off to lower levels in generally quieter activity today, with continued reactionary tone of the stock market resulting in conspicuous weakness in many of the convertible issues.

International Tel. & Tel. 4½'s broke through to new low ground at 114, off ½ point from its previous close, while American Tel. & Tel. 4½'s were also adversely affected by the weakness in the common stock and sustained a 1-point loss at 167.

The German government International 5½'s were still the center of active turnover, although a slightly lower price level was reached at 90½, off ⅛ from yesterday's final sale.

Liberties ruled steady with 3½'s quoted at 110.28, 4¼'s at 102.20, and treasury 3⅜'s of '47 at 101.20.

Transcontinental Oil 6½'s with warrants, was the outstanding strong spot in the group, being heavily turned over at its best levels of the year. At 105, it was up 2½ points above last night's close, with the buying attributed to the forthcoming merger of the company with Ohio Oil.

Rail bonds were dull and generally steady.

Thirty-Five Iowa Stockmen Indicted

FAIRFIELD, Ia., June 14—(I. N. S.)—Indictments have been returned today against thirty-five members of a local group of stockmen on charges of conspiracy to defraud cattle buyers.

The alleged ring is charged with having purchased poor grade stock in Kansas City and Texas and to have shipped them to Iowa and sold them to purchasers as purebred stock.

Operations of the group during the period of investigation indicate that it has sold nearly 50,000 head of cattle involving nearly $3,000,000. These cattle were sold to buyers of Iowa and about thirty other states, it is charged. Records show that buyers came from the New England states and states down to the gulf and as far west as Kansas and Nebraska. Local residents claim the ring has been operating for approximately thirty years.

Bonds were set at $5,000 on each count. The men indicted are stock dealers in Wapello, Jefferson, Muscatine, Henry and Van Buren counties.

WOMEN CONCLUDE DENVER MEETING

DENVER, Colo., June 14—(AP)—The world's largest organization of women—the General Federation of Women's clubs, with a membership in excess of 3,000,000—concluded its biennial convention today with a record of having expressed itself forcibly on current national issues and pledged itself anew to home and community service.

With little dissension, the federation assumed a militant stand for prohibition and endorsed the cause of world peace by international treaty.

BOSTON, June 14 — (AP) — The American Federation of Musicians, at the closing session of its annual meeting here today, voted to continue the advertising campaign carried on in newspapers by the executive board against "canned music."

KING FOUND GUILTY.

EUREKA, Cal., June 14—(AP)—Clarence L. King, ex-convict today faced a death sentence for the slaying in February of his former sweetheart, Mrs. Minnie McCoy, whose body was found behind a redwood log. The superior court jury in finding him guilty yesterday made no recommendation for clemency, making a death sentence mandatory. The prosecution said King killed Mrs. McCoy to enable him to marry Miss Eunice Pardee.

Big League Shrapnel.

Bearing out the old baseball axiom that you can't win ball games without pitching, the world champion Athletics were in second place in the American league today. During the past four days, Connie Mack used eight pitchers, including his big three, Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg, only to lose four games.

The A's latest loss, a 15-2 drubbing at the hands of the Indians yesterday, skidded the A's into second place and gave the Clevelands the lead by a few percentage points.

Three points back of the A's Washington. The Senators gained ground yesterday by upsetting the White Sox, 6 to 2. Ad Liska, who is to get a $1,000 bonus if he wins 12 games this year, limited the Sox to four hits. It was Liska's fifth victory.

Sammy Byrd's home run and Babe Ruth's arm carred the Yanks A 10 to 9 win over the Tigers. Ruth cut off the what would have been the tying run in the last of the ninth with a magnificent heave to the plate.

Kress' single in the eleventh inning broke up a pitchers' duel between Gaston and Collins and gave St. Louis a 1 to 0 decision over the Red Sox.

Cincinnati finally whipped Brooklyn, winning, 8 to 5. Loque was charged with the defeat, his first of the year.

Denver Bill Walker allowed Pittsburgh but six scattered hits as the Giants won, 7 to 2.

Gabby Hartnett's eleventh and twelfth home runs enabled the Cubs to trim Philadelphia, 7 to 5. Bush pitched well in the pinches for the winners.

The Braves came from behind, after spotting the Cards a seven-run lead in the first two innings, to win a 10-inning battle, 9 to 8.

OARSMEN TO RACE ON LAKE CARNEGIE

PRINCETON, N. J., June 14—(AP)—California's oarsmen, entered in the Poughkeepsie regatta later this month, make their first eastern appearance of the season today on Lake Carnegie, engaging Navy and Princeton in a triangular regatta.

Varsity and freshman races at a mile and three-quarters will give the two eastern representatives a real chance to test the Golden Bears' mettle. The freshman race is scheduled for 4:45 p. m., eastern standard time and the varsity a half hour later.

Navy, beaten only by Columbia this season, is favored to take the brush, although California's strength is not discounted. The Golden Bears have made only one start this season, losing by a few feet to Washington's great crew. Princeton, which has experienced a disastrous season, is not expected to be a factor in the big race.

The Tigers are favored to win the freshman race. Unbeaten this year, they have already taken the measure of the Navy plebes.

THE WEATHER.

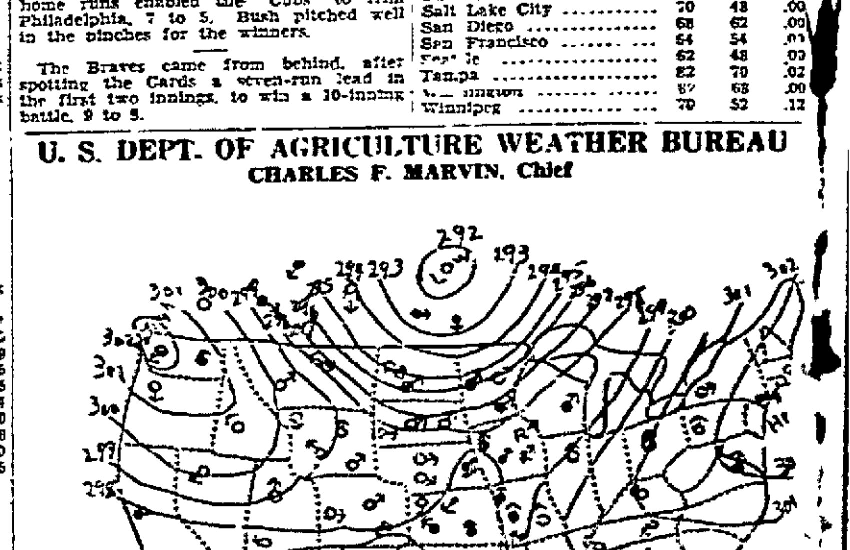

The central low pressure system has moved very slowly eastward. Decidedly low pressure is now centered over Manitoba, and moderately low over New Mexico, with a wedge of higher pressure advancing from the north Pacific coast across Wyoming and Nebraska. Showers and thunderstorms have occurred in southern and eastern Nebraska, and in the upper Mississippi Valley and the western Canadian Provinces. Temperatures have fallen in Wyoming, Nebraska, eastern Colorado and northwestern Kansas. Frosts occurred in Wyoming and Idaho. It is fair and warm in the southwest and in the eastern and southern states, except that rain continues on the south Atlantic coast.

Czars of Boxing Father Move to Deny Max's Title Claim

Muldoon Refuses Give Okay to Schmeling as World's Heavy Champ

BY HERBERT W. BARKER.

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)—Officially and unofficially, it would appear, the heavyweight throne, vacant for nearly two years, will have to await another 12 months for a lawful occupant.

There no longer is any doubt that Max Schmeling was seriously hurt by a low left hook Jack Sharkey landed in the fourth round of their 15-round title bout Thursday night but public opinion seems almost as unanimous in its view that the Teuton youngster cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be entitled to the championship. Sharkey was leading by such a wide margin when the low blow was struck that most experts contended it would be absurd to vote "Der Max" into the title.

Title Situation Unchanged.

In short, the heavyweight situation remains exactly as it was before the ill-fated battle was fought. If anything, the contendership claims of Young Stribling and Phil Scott both have been strengthened by the result of Thursday's fiasco. Both, in the opinion of most experts, gave Sharkey a better run for his money than did Schmeling in the four rounds the battle lasted.

Initial attempts to bring about a return match between Sharkey and Schmeling met with an abrupt check from Schmeling, who announced he would sail for home in August. Max plans to tour this country, make a movie and then return to Germany. His plans for the winter include one bout, probably against a second-rater, in Berlin. He expects to return to this country late in the spring of 1931 and indicated his willingness to fight Sharkey again in June, next year.

Garden Bids for Sharkey.

Despite the general opinion that Sharkey, because of his own lack of control in several of his major fights, had discredited himself as an outstanding contender, Madison Square Garden went ahead with its plans for a return bout and when that failed indicated that it might seek to match Sharkey against Victorio Campolo, giant Argentine, for its scheduled outdoor show in September.

The Tunney-Muldoon trophy committee has not ruled officially on the question as to whether Schmeling's name will be inscribed below Gene Tunney's on the trophy, but there were strong indications that it would not. William Muldoon, venerable boxing commissioner and joint donor with Tunney of the trophy, announced his personal opposition to recognizing Schmeling.

Title Should Not Pass.

Herbert Bayard Swope, another member of the committee, expressed the opinion that the title should not pass on a foul, especially when the title is not actually held by one of the contestants. Swope said he would advocate at the committee's forthcoming meeting that the title be declared still open.

At the same time, Swope expressed a hope for legislation designed to curb the fouls that have marred so many recent bouts. He suggested that the fight be terminated and declared no contest when a foul occurs; that the party committing the foul be denied his entire share of the purse.

The New York state athletic commission will rule officially on Schmeling's status at its meeting next Tuesday and the National Boxing association's membership will be polled by President Stanley M. Isaacs before that organization's views on the question are announced.

N.B.A. Recognizes Max as Champion

CINCINNATI, O., June 14—(AP) — Max Schmeling, winner over Jack Sharkey on a foul, was recognized today by the National Boxing associaion as the heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

MITCHELL VICTOR OVER LEO DIEGEL

ST. ALBANS, England, June 14—(AP)— Abe Mitchell defeated Leo Diegel, four up and three to play, in a 36-hole professional golf match here today. Mitchell finished the first round three up. Abe went around in 70 and Diegel took a 74.

Gene Content Let Maxie Wear Crown

By BILL CORUM.

NEW YORK, June 14—Gene Tunney, whose relinquished heavyweight title Max Schmeling won on a foul Thursday night, sat in the second row of the patrons' press and was as disappointed as the next one at the unsatisfactory ending of the bout.

"There is no doubt it was a low blow," said Gene, shaking his head. "It's too bad it had to end this way. Sharkey boxed well and was clearly ahead on points. There was no reason for him to hit low intentionally."

When asked if he would return to the ring to regain the heavyweight title for America, now that it had gone to a foreign nation for the first time in history, Gene only smiled and shook his head. There is not even a remote chance that he will, and he knew very well that his questioner knew it.

Discussing fouls, Tunney has told me that, in his opinion, no fighting man worthy of the name ever grovelled and rolled around the ring in pain, simulated or otherwise.

Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, accompanied her husband to the fight and enjoyed it up to the time of its deplorable ending.

FOURTEEN ENTER CHICAGO'S DERBY

Field of Fliers Awaits Word to Contend For $50,000 Prize.

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—Fourteen horses—one figured to have just as good a chance as any of the others—were named for the twenty-second running of Washington Park's American Derby and its $50,000 bag of gold today.

No championship was involved in the blue ribbon event of the track's meeting, Gallant Fox having been withdrawn, although the two outstanding fillies, Snowflake of the east and Alcibiades of the west, had some unofficial superiority business to settle. The eastern filly not only was favored over Alcibiades, but was considered a serious contender for the big money position.

Gallant Knight Favored.

Gallant Knight, runner-up to Gallant Fox in the Kentucky Derby, was the overnight favorite, but Kentuckians gave Tannery support and the east leaned to Walter J. Salmon's Snowflake, and any of them were possible post-time favorites. Gallant Knight and Flyer, the Audley farm entry, were four to one overnight favorites, with Snowflake quoted at the same figure and Tannery at eight to one. The latter gained a big following by his easy victory in the Derby Trial Tuesday.

Of the others named, only Portmanteau, owned by S. M. Rosenheim, and C. B. Irwin's General Jackson appeared to hove no more than a ghost of a chance of winning. Neither has performed impressively this season and were listed as probably scratchers.

Additional Entries.

The other entrants were the Wheatley stable's Hornpipe; J. A. Best's Revielle Boy; Xenofol, owned by G. A. Cochran; the Northwoy stable's Plucky Play; J. A. Pontius' Michigan Boy; W. S. Kilmer's Dark Sea, and Ned O., third place horse in the Kentucky Derby.

Gallant Knight and Michigan Boy were assessed 121 pounds, while Portmanteau, Flyer, Revielle Boy, Plucky Play, General Jackson, Tannery, Ned O. and Dark Sea were called upon to carry 118 pounds. Alcibiades and Snowflake were down for 116, while Hornpipe and Xenofol has 114.

Snowflake's Chances Good.

Fillies seldom win big derby events, but Snowflake, in such company, rated much consideration. She finished third in the Peakness, behind Gallant Fox and Crack Brigade, and won the American Coaching club Oaks at Belmont Park. Alcibiades won the Kentucky Oaks and has other creditable performances this season.

ELKS SHUT OUT WITHOUT A HIT

Norfolk Bowled Over By McCook Pitcher; Links Lose to Islanders.

Jim Cameron of McCook has no terrors regarding Friday, the thirteenth. In fact, the McCook twirler believes this combination his lucky day, for Friday Cameron shut out Norfolk, 6-0, letting the Elkhorns down with nary hit nor run.

Only one Norfolk batter reached first base during the afternoon, this was when Catcher Utt or McCook dropped Vaughn's third strike and threw wildly to first. Umpire Lindberg refused to permit Vaughn to continue around to third and the Elks announced they were playing the game under protest. Lindberg had a busy afternoon, chasing three Norfolk players from the park.

Harvey Grace Breaks In.

Harvey Grace, University of Nebraska outfielder, broke into Nebraska league competition, playing third base for McCook. He handled three chances without a skip and got a single in three accredited times at bat.

Grand Island turned on Lincoln and won an 11-8 victory Friday. The Islanders got 14 blows off three Lincoln twirlers, getting away to a four-run lead in the first three innings and adding four more scores in the fourth. It was a great day for the hitters. Herman Cholcher of Grand Island hit three doubles in three accredited times at bat and Wills, his team-mate, batted in five runs as well as scoring another himself. Hoener of the Links poled two doubles, a triple and single in five trips to the plate.

Norton Passes Norfolk.

Norton stepped into sole possession of seventh place by outscoring York, 5 to 4. Railsback, York pitcher, was wild in the pinches, while McCoy scattered York's 13 hits.

Fairbury uncorked a 12-run rally in the eighth to trounce North Platte, 16-6. The Platters led 5-0 going into the sixth inning.

Yesterday's Stars.

Bill Walker, Giants—Won eighth game of season, beating Pirates, 7-2, allowing only six hits.

Rabbit Maranville, Braves—His single in tenth put Welsh in position to score run that beat Cards.

Ad Liska, Senators—Beat White Sox, 6-2, with four-hit pitching performance.

Gabby Hartnett, Cubs—Hit two homers as Cubs beat Phillies, 7-5.

Rip Collins, Browns—Held Red Sox to four hits in 11 innings and beat them, 1-0.

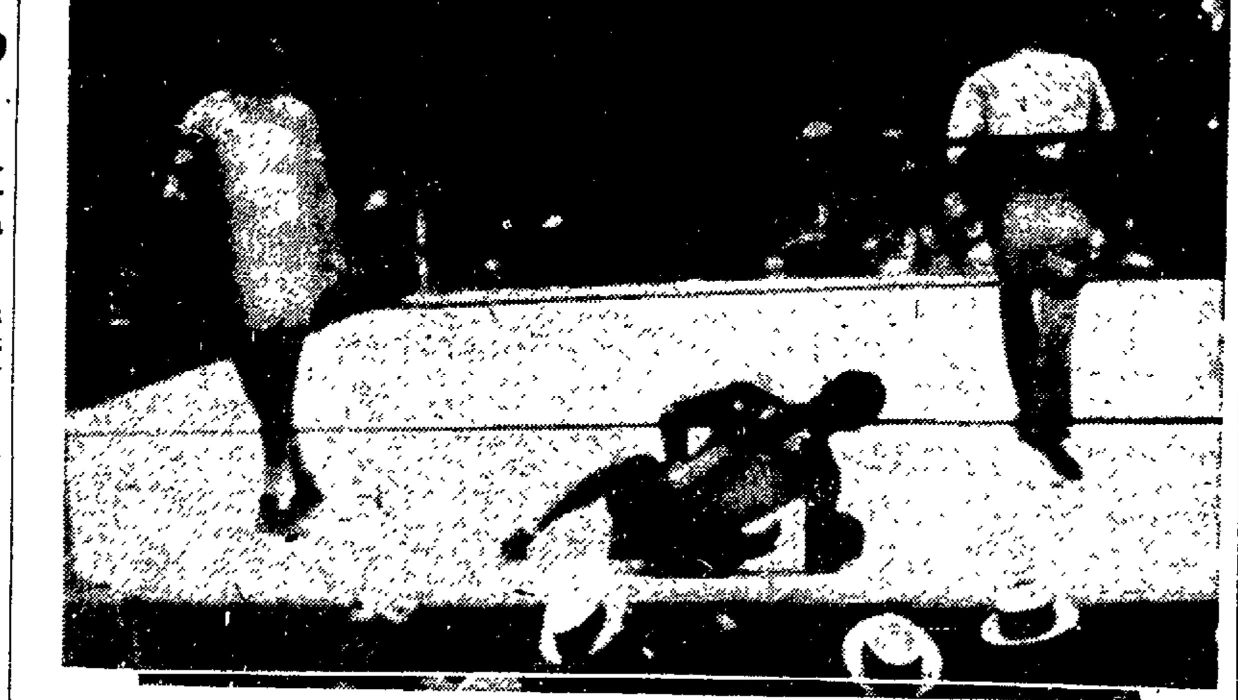

Southern Association.

Memphis, 2; Birmingham, 4.
Little Rock, 6; Atlanta, 7.
Mobile, 5; Nashville, 15.
New Orleans, 5; Chattanooga, 7.

Texas League.

Wichita Falls, 15, Houston, 2.
Shreveport, 7, Waco, 0.
Fort Worth 2; San Antonio, 0.
Dallas, 6, Beaumont, 5.

Schmeling Goes Down Under Foul Blow.

TAKES POKE AT ONE-MAN BOARD

Walsh Scorns Muldoon's Claim Schmeling Is Not Champion.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 14—(I. N. S.) —Thirty-six hours after the first million-dollar foul in all the history of boxing had been committed, the jury still was out this morning trying to reach a verdict on the question of whether Max Schmeling is to be awarded undisputed possession of the heavyweight title or undisputed possession of the air. It is a head-strong jury, in the opinion of William Muldoon. In fact, his story is that 11 very stubborn jurors are liable to try a man's patience out of all reason.

Anyhow, Mr. Muldoon, who seems to feel that he would be violating his best traditions if he ever agreed with anybody on anything, has decided that everybody was guilty of a childish oversight Thursday evening. He thinks the wrong man won the prize fight.

One Man Vote.

He, therefore, has arranged to take a unanimous one-man vote on the matter and thus straighten everyone out. By the time he gets through doing this, Max Adolph Otto Siegfried Schmeling will have defended and probably lost the title he was awarded on a foul by Jack Sharkey in the fourth round the other night. In other words, it would seem that Mr. Muldoon has managed to over-match himself at last.

He can decree that men must stop smoking because he doesn't like smoking, but he can't order them to stop thinking. For instance, did Schmeling lose the prize fight? He didn't. Did he win the prize fight? He did.

Logic Favors Max.

Was the prize fight, by the arrangement of his own boxing commission, to be fought for the heavyweight championship? It was. This is second reader stuff. By following its continuity, you arrive at the inevitable conclusion that Schmeling is the heavyweight champion because he won the prize fight that was fought for the heavyweight championship.

Of course, Sharkey had no title to win or lose, but, except for this point, the foul incident parallels others in which a championship title was involved. Willie Ritchie might never have been lightweight champion if they had refused to recognize his right to crumple under Wolgast's foul.

Nelson and Gans.

What of the famous Nelson-Gans foul at Goldfield? Was that a championship fight or am I just naturally mistaken? Jackie Fields, the recent welterweight champion, was fouled into his title by Dundee. These items in the bill of particulars, as a matter of fact, are too numerous to mention.

The New York commission does many strange things. It agrees to waive its own foul rules in the contract for this fight, thus inviting one and all to ignore these rules in the future. It allows Schmeling, supposed to be persona non grata, to dictate the terms of this particular clause, because he claimed that Sharkey might simulate a foul from a punch in the body; yet it knew or should have known that Schmeling and body punching are as the poles apart.

Others Must Be Consulted.

But if it doesn't stand behind the verdict of its own officials, it will be laughed out of countenance by California, Illinois and the N. B. A., all of which agreed to help it to stand behind this verdict. These organizations are obligated to accept Schmeling; the New York commission can do no less.

Meantime, we have a new champion and the perennial challenger, neither of whom are men to inspire great confidence. Sharkey will never be as good as he was the other night. If he fights Schmeling again, it will be as a man who reached and has passed the pinnacle. He achieved perfection for three of the four rounds the other night and still lost. Offhand, I would say that that kind is hopeless.

Max Not Formidable.

As for Schmeling, he struck me as a fighter who, in winning on the negative impetus of a foul, wasn't as good as he was a year ago. His right, it seems, has lost some of its authority. It certainly has lost its brevity and snap. His left still is highly unimportant.

And if he stays out of circulation until next June, as announced, he won't be as good as he was Thursday night. He can't stay out of competition without suffering accordingly. He is in the unique position of having much to learn about a profession of which he is the admitted king and ruler. You can't learn swimming in a beach chair.

Gooch's Best baseballers rounded out a disastrous week of competition in the "Y" Industrial league by losing to Evans Laundry, 14-12, Friday evening in an old-fashioned slugging bee. One week previously, Gooch's were tied for first place with the Telephones, but the defeat by Evans, coupled with the setback at the hands of the Power outfit Tuesday, played havoc with the Millers' championship aspirations.

An orgy of extra base hits proved to be the only feature of the mix. Of 31 safe bingles garnered by the two teams, seven were good for two bases, three were triples and seven enabled the clouter to travel entirely around the circuit. The score:

INDIANS STRIDE TO TOP POSITION

Cleveland Passes A's In Race for American League Flag.

The Cleveland Indians, picked to finish no higher than fourth place in the American league pennant race, today are out in front after a whirlwind dash to the top that has left the remainder of the clubs and the Athletics, in particular, groggy.

With a championship brand of pitching and a murderous attack, the Indians yesterday rolled up their seventh straight victory and their third over the world champions to go into the lead by four points.

As if to make their advance into the leadership even more impressive, the Indians downed the champions, 15 to 2, as Wesley Ferrell turned in his tenth victory of the season George Walberg, usually the nemesis of the Cleveland batters, was no puzzle and before the game was over he had been driven to the showers and Eddie Rommel called to his rescue.

Liska Hurls Four-Hitter.

The Senators took the White Sox into camp 6 to 2 when Ad Liska held Chicago to four hits. The victory left the Senators only a half-game out of second place.

At St. Louis, Rip Collins and Milton Gaston staged an old-fashioned hurling duel as the Browns defeated the Red Sox, 1 to 0, in 11 innings. A single by Ralph Kress broke up the contest. Collins held the Sox to four hits, while Gaston let the Browns down with seven safe blows.

In contrast, Detroit and the New York Yankees put on a modern game of baseball—slamming the ball to every corner of the field as the Yankees won, 10 to 9. A total of 27 hits was collected by both teams. Bucky Harris sent Whitehill, Page and Sullivan to the mound, but they were as ineffective as Pipgras, Gomez and Sherid. In the sixth inning, Sammy Byrd hit the ball out of the park with two on base to give the Yanks a safe lead.

Reds Land On Luque.

In the National league, Adolfo Luque, a veteran of many a major league game, lost his first contest of the 1930 season when the Cincinnati Reds pounded out a 8 to 5 triumph over the Brooklyn Robins. Although hit hard, Luque stuck by his guns for the entire nine innings in an effort to stop his former teammates. A five-run rally in the first inning, however, was too much for the Robins to overcome.

The Chicago Cubs managed to nose out the Phillies, 7 to 5, in a see-saw contest. Gabby Hartnett, Cubs catcher, pounded out two home runs to lead the attack, while Chuck Klein, the leading National league hitter, hit safely in his twenty-second consecutive game.

Braves Defeat Red Birds.

Rained out for two days, the Cardinals and Braves finally came together, with the latter winning, 9 to 8, in 10 innings. The Cards got away to a seven-run lead in the first two innings, but the Braves kept pecking away at Willie Sherdel and Herman Bell until they were on even terms. Singles by Welsh and Maranville and a fielder's choice gave the Braves the winning run.

Southpaw Bill Walker turned in his eighth victory of the season when the Giants trounced the Pirates, 7 to 2, in the last game of the series. Walker held the Pirates to six scattered hits and drove in two with a timely single. Friday's major league results:

Praise For Hurley As Fine Sportsman

NEW YORK, June 14—(AP)— Speaking at a luncheon given by the New York Athletic club in honor of Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war, Mayor James J. Walker, who was host to the secretary at the Sharkey-Schmeling fight, said:

"The nicest thing about American sportsmanship was to see the secretary of war, who served as a colonel of infantry in the World war, standing on his feet and shouting for justice for a son of the fatherland, which a few short years ago had been our common enemy."

Good Golf.

BY CHESTER HORTON, "Golf's Greatest Teacher."

In your efforts to true up your back swing with your brassie, and in working out the take-off, or initiation of back-swing action that I have outlined, you will run into the natural tendency to roll your forearms to the right as you sweep the club back. This rolling should be avoided. It can take place at the beginning of the action or, if not there, near the top of the back swing. It is most persistent, too, as you will discover when you attempt to eradicate it, so that if you have found yourself rolling the forearms at the start of the back swing, and determine to stop it there, watch that your arms don't roll just the same near the top. This rolling opens up the club face too much. Many players do it and get away with it, but generally it should be avoided if for no other reason than that it adds one more complication possibility. The face of the club opens naturally with the turn of your body, and face opening beyond that is not needed.

Note:—Golf is more mental than physical; in Mr. Horton's latest monograph the rule to "keep an eye on the ball" receives some remarkable clarification; also he tells some rules covering the important recovery shots. You'll play better golf with this masterful instruction, which is free in return for a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write Chester Horton, care of The Star's sports editor, asking for Lines to Golf Success, No. 3.

BROWNIES SWAP WITH SENATORS

Manush, Crowder Go to Washington in Trade For Goslin.

ST. LOUIS, June 14—(AP)— Leon "Goose" Goslin, hard-hitting outfielder of the Washington Senators, has been traded to the St. Louis Browns for Heinie Manush, outfielder, and "General" Alvin Crowder, a pitcher. According to Bill Freil, Browns' business manager, the deal was a straight player trade, with no cash involved.

The trade was engineered via the telephone last night by the presidents of both clubs, Phil Ball of the Browns and Clarke Griffith of Washington.

Goslin will appear in a Brownie uniform today and Manush in the Senators' outfield as the two teams open a four-game series here today. It will be Washington's first appearance at Sportsman's park this season.

Senator Since 1921.

Goslin has been a member of the Senators since he became a major leaguer in 1921, coming up from the South Atlantic league. In 1928 he led the American league in batting with .379. Goslin staged a consistent attack to turn back the man who takes his place with the Senators, as Manush batted .378.

Crowder also had his best year in 1928, when he paced the league with 21 victories and five defeats. This year he has won but three, while losing six. Crowder came to the Browns from Washington in 1926.

Manush broke into the big leagues with Detroit in 1923 and came to the Browns in a deal in 1928. He has an all-time major league batting average of .338 as against Goslin's mark of .331.

Three Born Same Year.

All three players were born in the same year, 1901, with Crowder the oldest, his birthday coming Jan. 11, Manush's July 20 and Goslin's Oct. 6. Both Goslin and Manush were holdouts this spring.

Manush led the American league in batting in 1926, when he was a member of the Detroit club. His average was .377.

Goslin's transfer to the Browns probably will increase his home run output. The "Goose" hits many long flies to right field which are caught in the big field at Washington. At Sportsman's Park, home of the St. Louis Browns, the right field stands offer an inviting target for such drives.

Harris For Barnes.

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)— The White Sox last night traded Outfielder Dave Harris to Washington for Emile (Red) Barnes, another outfielder. The deal was a flat trade, no money being involved.

RUNNERS READY FOR LONG GRIND

Entrants In Marathon On Mark, With De Mar Favored to Win.

LOS ANGELES, June 14—(AP)— America's marathon marvel, Clarence De Mar, Keene, N. H., school teacher, today is favored to lead a field of 60 probable starters to the tape in the second annual pre-Olympic race of 26 miles, 385 yards.

His right to add the annual distance grind here to his list of victories this spring will be strongly challenged by the sturdy little Navajo Indian, Harry Chaca, who defeated the Olympic star last season. A third contender for the victory is John Bertoni of the Italian-American A. C., San Francisco, winner of the Vallejo marathon last fall.

De Mar was established as a favorite because of his victories in the east this spring, including the historic Boston race which he won in 2 hours, 34 minutes. Indian runners, teammates of Chaca, from the Sherman Institute, Riverside, Cal., who won four of the first 10 positions last year, are expected to finish strong again this year.

BRITISH WOMEN WIN AT TENNIS

Victory In Doubles Tilt Decides Contest For Wightman Cup.

BY F. A. WRAY.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 14— The Stars and Stripes dipped to British supremacy here today when England, fighting in a bitter struggle, won the Wightman cup by four matches to three in the eighth annual play-off of the tournament.

Britain's victory, by means of which the number of triumphs through the years was evened to four each, came in a titanic doubles match between Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs against Kitty McKane Godfree and Mrs. Phoebe Watson.

Doubles Match Decides It.

With everything at stake in this last match of the day, Mrs. Godfree and Mrs. Watson used everything at their command and captured the coveted cup by the score of 7-5, 1-6, 6-4.

This thrilling match climaxed a never-to-be-forgotten tournament, in which the advantage see-sawed back and forth from the Stars and Stripes to the Union Jack, and with the ultimate outcome a toss-up until almost the final service.

The score had been three-all at the time the doubles teams took the center court before an enthusiastic gallery of more than 15,000.

Americans Go Ahead.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 14—(AP) —Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, world champion for three years, was extended to the limit in the opening set of a match with Mrs. Phoebe Watson of England today, but came through to win at 7-5, 6-1, to give the United States a lead of three matches to two in the series for the Wightman cup.

Prior to Mrs. Moody's triumph Helen Jacobs of California conquered Miss Joan Fry in straight sets, 6-0, 6-3.

Miss Jacobs Invincible.

Atoning for her defeat at the hands of Mrs. Phoebe Watson yesterday, when the Americans were able to win only one out of three matches, Miss Jacobs swept her English opponent off her feet.

Taking the opening set without loss of a game and finishing it off with a succession of service aces Miss Jacobs bowled through the second set at the same rapid pace to win the match.

In the second match of the day Mrs. Helen Wills Moody started serving against the tall English tactician, Mrs. Phoebe Watson, and the world's champion lost the first three games, to the amazement of the gallery.

Queen Helen Not In Form.

Queen Helen opened with a double fault and found difficulty in hitting the service court all through the game, which she lost after it had gone to deuce. Mrs. Watson rushed the second game to 4-love and then won it from deuce. Amid cheers she took the third game also in similar fashion. Mrs. Watson increased her streak to five games before the American was able to win her first game.

Mrs. Moody, fighting gamely, broke through Mrs. Watson's service in the seventh game and the score was 5-2 in the British woman's favor.

Tide Turns Quickly.

Quickly the complexion of the match changed as Mrs. Moody won two more games, the ninth at love, and brought the count to 4-5.

In the critical tenth game, with Mrs. Watson serving, Mrs. Moody faced set point against her and won it with a smashing forehand. Had Queen Helen dropped that point, Mrs. Watson would have accomplished the feat of taking a set from the world's champion, something that has not been achieved since the Berkeley, Calif., girl ascended that pinnacle of tennis perfection in 1928.

Rallying like the world's champion that she is, Mrs. Moody took the first set from Mrs. Watson at 7-5, after trailing at 0-5.

Win Seven In Row.

Faced with the possibility of losing a set or even of being defeated for the first time in three years, Queen Helen reeled off seven games in a row to wrest the opening set from the grasp of Mrs. Watson, England's outstanding star and one of the best players in the world.

Mrs. Moody won the advantage game and then the next at love, to reap the set at 7-5 as her reward for one of the greatest rallies in the history of the women's game.

Helen, the old master, was herself again in the second set and won the first three games in the form expected of her winning the set at 6-1.

Rivals On Even Terms.

The defeat of the 17-year-old Boston youngster, Sarah Palfrey, by England's sensational new star, Phyllis Mudford, 6-0, 6-2, in the sixth match, brought the rival teams to even terms with one more contest to be played.

England's traditional strength in doubles made the home team the favorite to regain the cup as the teams took the court for this all-important battle.

British Girl Comes To Pilot Speedboat

LONDON, June 14—(AP)—Miss Betty Carstairs, undaunted by the tragic death of Sir Henry O. Segrave at Lake Windermere yesterday, sailed aboard the steamship Berengaria for the United States today with her motor boat Estelle V, with which she hopes to establish a new speed record at Detroit.

She will be the only British entrant for the international trophy as the result of Segrave's fatal injuries when his challenger, Miss England II, overturned while going at a speed of about 100 miles an hour.

Miss Carstairs expressed deep regret at the death of her rival and friend, but said she would not change her plans as she was determined, for the safe of British prestige, to make a good fight for the trophy against her American opponents.
